"A favorable issue to our operations is, therefore, very doubtful, but, as a soldier, I must prefer an honorable fall to an ignominious peace."

[A report from Berlin on Wednesday said that Field Marshal von Hindenburg had resigned from the chief command. Later dispatches said that Gen. Groener had succeeded him.]

KEEP UP HUNGER RIOTS

BY JOSEPH HERRINGS.
Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright, 1919.]

BERLIN, June 25.—[Delayed.]—Hunger riots in various cities are continuing. Even Charlottenburg had its share, some dozen violent shops being plundered by excited housewives.

In Schoenberg, the proprietor of one of the large grocery stores was badly wounded by his female customers, who refused to pay 4 marks a pound for cherries which, according to the official price list, should be 14 marks. Neither the police nor soldiers intervened to collect reparations for the loss. The sinking of the fleet is denounced as a violation of the armistice and a deliberate breach in advance of the conditions of peace.

When the investigations have been completed, the note states, the allies will exact "the necessary reparation."

For Flags, Too

Reparation also will be asked for the burning of the French battle flags which, under the treaty, Germany was to have returned to France.

Paris, June 25.—[Delayed.]—The German government has issued a special dispatch to "The Tribune" disclosing all these flags were not burned. Most of them were seized by members of the Berlin mob and taken home as souvenirs, but Paris has not yet indicated what demand will be made with respect to these.

Warning to Germany.

Germany is warned that such acts as are noted "must have a very unfortunate effect upon the future operation of the treaty." Germany's protests against the long period of allied occupation, provided for in the treaty and her complaint that her admission to the league of nations might be too long delayed, are contrasted in the note with the violations of her armistice terms set forth.

It is pointed out inferentially that the treaty provides for successive evacuations of various parts of German territory at stated periods, and that it is stipulated that the occupying forces should be withdrawn entirely at any time Germany had complied with the undertakings under the treaty.

Germany, however, the note adds, "cannot complain should the allies use the full powers conferred on them by the treaty, particularly article 429 [that dealing with the question of territorial occupation, which provides that it might be continued indefinitely] if she, on her side, deliberately violates its provisions."

Here is Letter.

The text of the letter sent today to the German peace delegation is as follows:

"June 25, 1919.—Mr. President: The terms of the armistice signed by Germany on the 11th of November, 1918, provided as follows:

"Article 23. The German surface warships which shall be specified by the allies and the United States shall forthwith be dismantled and thereafter interned in neutral ports, or, failing them, in the allied ports designated by the allies and the United States. They shall remain on board, as provided by the armistice, under the supervision of these parties under the orders of the German admiralty in command, according to the information which has been collected and transmitted by the British admiralty. The German admiralty in command of these parties of the German naval forces has alleged that he acted in the belief that the armistice expired on June 21 at midday, and consequently in his opinion the destruction in question was no violation of its terms."

Law on the Subject.

"The sinking of these ships instead of the preservation, as had been provided for, and in breach of the armistice, constitutes a violation of the armistice, the destruction of the pledge handed over, and an act of gross bad faith toward the allies and associated powers."

"The admiralty in command of the German naval forces has, while recognizing that the act was a breach of the armistice, attempted to justify it by alleging his belief that the armistice had come to an end."

The Facts in the Case.

"This alleged justification is not well founded, as under the communication addressed to the German delegation by the allies and associated powers on the 16th of June, 1919, the armistice would only terminate on refusal to sign the peace, or if no answer were returned on the 22d of June at 7 o'clock. GERMANS PICK ENVOYS; SIGN TOMORROW P. M.?

Dr. Mueller, Dr. Bell, Herr Leinert Leave for Versailles.

In peace conference circles, and the feeling has been expressed that the signing of this peace treaty may mean little more than the signing by the Bolsheviks at Brest-Litovsk did.

The defiant tone of the German note, which grudgingly agreed to sign the treaty without reservations, created an unfavorable impression on members of the various delegations, according to statements made today, and this seemingly has been intensified by the delay in the carrying out of their promises.

The peace treaty contains no provision as to when they must ratify. Consequently delay in ratification may cause the peace conference additional annoyance, although it is generally agreed by the delegates that enforcement of the reparations clause need not be delayed until there is ratification by the Germans.

Delay on Other Treaties.

Delegates to the peace conference and members of the various commissions are worn out by the lengthy negotiations with Germany and, consequently, are making little progress on the drafts of the treaties with Austria, Bulgaria, and Hungary, although daily meetings are being held. Until the Italian delegation arrives and the peace treaty with Germany is disposed of finally, it is not probable the peace conference will be able to accomplish much work on the other documents.

Vote of Confidence.

BERLIN, June 25.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Prussian national assembly has passed a resolution expressing confidence in the government. This action followed a discussion of the peace situation by the assembly.

HAYS IN CAPITAL TO DIRECT WAR ON WORLD PACT

G. O. P. Chief for Battle That Will Protect the Interests of U. S.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., June 25.—[Special.]—Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, came to town today in response to invitation by Republican senate leaders to help them unite the party on a definite and concrete program for dealing with the league of nations covenant.

Mr. Hays conferred with many senators and found many opinions as to what should be done. When he left the capitol in the evening, he described the situation as "headed in the right direction," but it was evident that little progress had been made toward the shaping of a program.

The Republican chairman announced that he had established his headquarters in Washington and would stay on the job almost constantly from now on. With the peace treaty and many important issues confronting congress, Mr. Hays thinks he can be more useful here than elsewhere.

Opponents in Three Groups.

Examination of the situation in the senate demonstrated to Mr. Hays that the Republican senators were divided into three distinct groups, although, as Senator Lodge declared several days ago, there are sufficient votes to amend the covenant.

These groups may be described in this manner:

First—The element headed by Senator Borah, Idaho, and Johnson, California, frankly against the whole league plan, who believe the party will make a mistake in not taking a stand against the league. They were outspoken in their disapproval of Mr. Hays' statement that the league is "an American issue; not a partisan question."

Second—A very small number, perhaps only one—Senator McCumber, North Dakota—who favors the league without reservation and who would be glad to see the party definitely committed to its support.

Third—The class commonly called the "reservationists," who believe the covenant should be accepted with a qualifying resolution containing reservations along the lines suggested by Elihu Root. This class might be subdivided between those who think the Root reservations would be entirely adequate and those who think they ought to be amplified and strengthened.

Mr. Hays is confident that a plan sufficiently satisfactory to command the almost unanimous support of the Republican senators will be worked out. He desires, he said, that it should be done with all possible dispatch in order that there may be no delay in ratifying the treaty.

Indorses Root Program.

He personally favors the Root program as the framework for the Republican position, but he was careful not to appear in the light of a dictator. He was merely collecting information for the purpose of aiding in the formulation of a program.

Mr. Hays was certain, he said, that the treaty would be amended or ratified with reservations to protect American interests. He was confident that it would be possible to muster a majority against Article X, which would pledge the United States to maintain the territorial integrity and the political independence of very nation member of the league.

Mr. Hays said that the league should not only be amended to protect American interests, but to make it a really effective agency for the promotion of world peace.

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Washington Bureau of The Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25. SECRETARY OF WAR BAKER'S advisory board finds that the excessive sentences imposed upon soldier offenders during the war, which led to an attack on the system of military justice, were the result of the inexperience of court martial officers and some reviewing authorities. The board recommends the qualification of two years' experience for such officers in time of peace, but declares application of this rule rigidly in time of war is impossible.

FINDING that the packers were willing to repurchase 145,000,000 pounds of surplus army canned and cured meats at only 25 to 50 per cent of the prices at which they sold the meats to the government, Secretary of War Baker rejected all bids and ordered the stock disposed of by negotiations with purchasers of any quantity.

ARMY enlistments for service in France have been suspended and men who enlist in the army hereafter will not be promised overseas duty.

REPRESENTATIVE HILL of New York introduced a bill to abolish the federal subtreasuries in Chicago and New York and transfer their funds and functions to the federal reserve banks.

EDWARD HINNE is meeting more and more obstacles to his project to induce the government to purchase his Speedway hospital, which he wants to be a memorial to his son. The house committee who refuse to yield in their opposition have been reinforced by Surgeon General Blue of the public health service, who told the house committee that the illness hospital would be unnecessarily costly.

CARRANZA, according to official advice, is seeking to inspire hatred of the United States among all the Central American republics except Guatemala, which he would destroy.

BEFORE a house committee Representative Mason of Illinois charged that American troops are being kept in Siberia as a "collection agency," the administration believing that support of the Kolchak government will lead to repayment of American loans to Russia.

URON request of Henry Ford, Secretary of the Treasury, has been ordered an audit of the Ford company accounts to determine the concern's profit on war contracts, 53 1/2 per cent of which, Ford says, he will refund to the government.

SENATOR PHILLIP of California, Democrat, amused the senate with a soulful complaint that the Republicans in voting solidly for the Irish independence resolution were seeking to steal the Irish vote from the Democratic party.

BRITAIN IN ROAR ON OWNERSHIP OF INDUSTRIES

Commons Prepares Re- volt Against Proposals of Lloyd George.

By HENRY M. HYDE.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)
(Copyright, 1919: By The Tribune Company.)
LONDON, June 26.—We shall not only the government but the country of Great Britain.
That is the tremendous issue which the opposing forces in England are getting ready to fight out. At present there is great confusion. Lines between the rival forces are not yet clearly drawn. The house of commons appears to be getting ready to revolt against the nationalization of coal mines and railroads as proposed by the Lloyd George government.
The great parliamentary labor party is almost split by the proposal to submit government by strike for constitutional methods. The situation is so full of danger and political dynamite it will take all the skill and resources of Lloyd George to handle it. It is impossible to see how an appeal to the country and another general election can be long avoided.

Wire Bonar Law.
More than 100 members of the house of commons have sent a telegram to Bonar Law, leader of the house and now in Paris, asking him to receive a deputation on Monday before the bill putting control of all railroads, docks, and other transportation facilities into the hands of a government department is called up for a vote.
It is anticipated at least 200 members will attend the conference. Most of them are coalition Unionists making up a topheavy majority which "the little Welsh lawyer" has so far commanded.

It was this house which the radical leader denounced as "an aggregation of half-headed profiteers." Now they are frightened not only by the bill which would put control of the railroads into the hands of Sir Eric Geddes, but at the immediate prospect of a new bill nationalizing the coal mines.
Veteran of B. & O.
Sir Eric is that Scotchman who learned the railroad game on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in America and who has been severely criticized because the English railroad which he served gave him a bonus of a quarter of a million dollars when he left it for government work. His bill also covers production and distribution of electric current.
A great majority of the present house are conservative, if not reactionary, and are fast being rallied to the line fight against adoption by the government of state socialism and other radical measures.

House of Lords Busy.
Naturally the house of lords is against radicalism, and some of the leading peers have taken up cudgels against the tendency toward government ownership. The most recent session was a furious attack against Robert Smillie, radical leader of the coal miners, by the young Duke of Northumberland, who during a part of the war delivered regular weekly lectures on progress to American correspondents in London. Britishers like their noblemen to show a fighting spirit, and they loudly applauded his shrewd onslaught.
The strange and dramatic feature of the situation is that the labor party, which has doubled its membership and influence since the war—its now more than 2,000,000—has only a handful of members in the house—less than for years before. In England the labor party includes all socialists and other radicals as well as members of the labor unions.

Plan "Direct Methods."
About a thousand delegates now in session at Southampton are fiercely debating whether they shall not for any attempt to control government through parliament and adopt "direct methods" of forcing such legislation as they demand.
Smillie and Robert Williams of the transport workers made fiery speeches denouncing the calling of general strikes to force immediate repeal of conscription and withdrawal of all British troops from Russia. It was opposed by John McGuck, chairman of the labor party, and by James Sexton and William Bruce, two labor members of parliament, who declared, "You would be setting mad dogs free" and "We should be starting a revolution."

Threat by Henderson.
It was strange to hear the Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, long regarded as an extremely radical, threatening an extension that if it adopted direct action he and other leaders would be forced to choose between their duty to their country and to their party.
Action on the proposal for direct action was postponed and may be taken in the next few days, though it is more likely it will wait for a final session until the general convention to be held in London next month.

Stopping of French.
Bitterness has been added to the stalling of the convention by the action of the government in stopping at Southampton and refusing permission to go to Southampton of two distinguished French Socialists who were coming over to attend as delegates from the French societies.
As soon as peace is signed with Germany there is to be a fight for control of British industry and politics between Conservatives and Radicals. Lloyd George is likely to find himself quite as busy as during the war. He will have the Northcliffe press against him. Ireland will grow more and more unruly, and there is a vast program of housing and land distribution to be carried out. But my observation is, that is just the sort of situation he most enjoys.

Want Germany in League.
SOUTHPORT, England, June 26.—(The Associated Press.)—The British labor party conference today adopted a resolution calling for the speedy admission of Germany to the league of nations and the immediate revision by the league of the "harsh provisions of the treaty which are not consistent with statements made on

7,450,200 DEATHS IN WAR; TOTAL COST TO
U. S., $21,850,000,000

Washington, D. C., June 26.—American casualties during the forty-seven day Meuse-Argonne offensive aggregated 120,000 men, or 10 per cent of the total of 1,200,000 engaged, according to a "statistical summary of the war with Germany," prepared by Col. Leonard P. Ayres, chief of the statistical branch of the general staff, and published by the war department.

"Of every 100 American soldiers and sailors who took part in the war with Germany," the report said, "two were killed or died of disease during the period of hostilities. In the northern army during the civil war the number was about ten."
"Among the other great nations in this war, between twenty and twenty-five in each 100 called to the colors were killed or died."

Huge Total of Deaths.
Best information obtainable by the general staff places the total battle deaths for all belligerents at 7,450,200, divided as follows:

Russia	1,700,000
Germany	1,383,300
France	2,000,000
Great Britain	900,000
Austria	800,000
Italy	330,000
Turkey	350,000
Spain and Montenegro	125,000
Belgium	100,000
Rumania	100,000
Bulgaria	100,000
United States	40,000
Greece	7,000
Portugal	2,000

America's Part in War.
American participation is summarized in the report in the following table:
Total armed forces, including army, navy, marine corps..... 4,800,000
Men who were wounded..... 2,000,000
Men who fought in France..... 2,300,000

77 Per Cent from Draft.
Under the head of "Sources of the Army," the report shows that 13 per cent came from the regular army, 10 per cent from the national guard, and 77 per cent from the draft.
A concise history of the military operations in which American troops took part is given in a chapter headed "Two hundred days of battle." Attention was called to the fact that "two of every three American soldiers who reached France took part in battle."

On behalf of the allied governments when the armistice was made." There was "no dissenting vote."
Another resolution adopted by the conference protested against the blockade of Germany and against the failure to incorporate in the peace treaty measures for the restoration of industry throughout Europe with equality of fiscal treatment. It also protested against the lack in the peace treaty of any adequate international control of raw material and food.

NEGRO LYNCHED; GOVERNOR FEARS TO TRY TO STOP IT
Mississippi Mob Burns Assailant After He Admits Crime.
Ellisville, Miss., June 26.—Trained for ten days through southern Mississippi by posse which included several hundred members of his own race, John Hartfield, Negro, confessed assailant of an Ellisville young woman, was captured desperately wounded in a canebreak this morning, rushed by automobile to the scene of his crime, hanged to a gum tree, and burned to ashes. His victim identified him and witnessed his execution.
Governor Is "Powerless."
Gov. Bilbo, petitioned during the day to intervene, in a statement issued at Jackson shortly before the lynching, declared himself "utterly powerless," and said interference would only lead to the deaths of hundreds of persons, and that "nobody can keep the inevitable from happening."
The lynching was conducted in a manner which the authorities characterized as "orderly." Guarded by a committee of citizens of Ellisville, Hartfield was taken first to the office of Dr. A. J. Carter, where, after examination his wounds, declared the Negro could not live more than twenty-four hours.
Hartfield was told what the crowd intended doing with him, but only repeated: "You have the right man."
Hanged by Hundreds.
Under the big gum tree Hartfield was hanged by a rope which was fastened to a limb of the same gum tree. The rope was hanged as soon as the rope could be pulled up by hundreds of hands.
Then occurred the first demonstration. While the body was in its death struggles, pistols were produced by men in the crowd and fired point blank at the swinging form. Before the rope had been cut by bullets, burning fags were thrown under the body and an hour later there was only a pile of ashes.
No arrests were made.

Bunch, mayor of Muncie, were arrested today in connection with operations by alleged swindlers who made it a raid on the Russian soviet bureau here, were introduced today before the Lusk legislative committee investigating seditious activities in New York.
One address to the firm of Henry Ford, sent by the commercial department of the soviet bureau, dated April 9, sought a hearing with Mr. Ford "on the social aspects of the regeneration of Russia."
Another declared the writer was "trying to establish connections with the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co.," and another set forth that the writer "had had interviews with Frank A. Vanderbilt, Dudley Field Malone, Amos Pinchot, Judah Magnes, Gilbert Roe, and Lincoln Colcord."
Counsel also read a letter to Frederick C. Howe, commissioner of immigration. A New York letter stated that "the great body of revolutionary comrades on the east side are behind soviet Russia."
A telegram from Frank Campbell, assistant secretary to Henry Ford, making an appointment to meet Santieri Nuorteva, secretary of the soviet bureau, was read into the record.
Ford's Secretary Dubious.
Detroit, Mich., June 26.—Frank Campbell, an assistant secretary to Henry Ford, said tonight he could not recall whether an appointment to meet Santieri Nuorteva, secretary of the soviet bureau in New York, had been kept by any representative of Mr. Ford. If the conference was held, Mr. Campbell said, he believed it related only to business matters.

REILLY, FOREMAN, DAVIS, NAMED TO HEAD REGIMENTS
Springfield, Ill., June 26.—In an order issued today by Adj. Gen. Frank S. Dickson formal announcement is made of the appointment of Col. Abel Davis of Chicago, as commander of the 2nd Illinois infantry and of Col. Henry J. Reilly, who is to command the new 7th Illinois infantry.
The order directs the new commanders to proceed with the work of reorganizing the two commands in the new state guard, which are to be made up, as far as possible, of men who served in the world war.
Col. Milton Foreman of Chicago has been instructed to organize the artillery forces of the state, which will become part of the Illinois guard.

U. S. GUNS TAKE FIRST 18 PLACES IN ALLIES' SHOOT
LE MANS, Tuesday, June 24.—The United States made a clean sweep today in the individual rifle competition of the interallied games. American marksmen took the first eighteen places in the matches. There were 175 marksmen representing eight nations. First Sergeant Stanley Smith of Cleveland won the championship with a score of 275 points out of a possible 300 on the international targets. He led the field at all ranges except one.

SPONS HIS DENIAL.
Later the correspondent came in contact with Baron von Muidner. The baron is proud of talking no English, and snapped his replies in true Prussian manner. On being asked whether the former crown prince was leaving immediately after peace was signed, Von Muidner was startled, grew breathless and replied: "That's the first I've heard of it. You must know better than I whether he can go. And where can he go?"
The burgomaster gave it as his conviction that his guest did not intend to leave the island yet, although this was doubtless camouflage.

DID HE RENOUNCE THRONE?
Two days before the armistice was signed, a decree issued by the German imperial chancellor, Prince Max of Baden, announcing a decision of the former German emperor to abdicate, stated:
"The imperial chancellor will remain in office until the questions connected with the abdication of the kaiser, the renouncing by the crown prince of the throne of the German empire and of Prussia, and the setting up of the regency have been settled."
Facsimile photographs of the emperor's and crown prince's abdication were published several months ago in THE TRIBUNE, that of the latter being republished this morning on this page.

FORMER CROWN PRINCE ESCAPES INTO GERMANY
May Lead Coup d'Etat Despite Renunciation.
PARIS, June 26.—Frederick William Hohenzollern, the former German crown prince, has escaped from Holland and made his way into Germany. News of the escape of the former crown prince caused a considerable stir in peace conference circles. While it is not felt that he is a figure around which the reactionaries and monarchists would gather enthusiastically, nevertheless his act is regarded as an event of considerable significance in view of other German recalcitrancy.
Pending details, official discussion of the event and its bearing on German affairs, and the question whether it involves violation of neutrality by Holland is withheld.
In military quarters the belief was expressed today that the crown prince and Prince Max of Baden are on their way to East Prussia, where the military reactionary element is strong.

THE HAGUE, June 25.—[Delayed.]—Rumors reaching here that the crown prince contemplated flight from Holland were refuted by him today. His guardian, Baron von Muidner, emphatically denied the reports, but appeared embarrassed when questioned regarding the matter.
Both men have spread the report of the island of Wieringen that the kaiser's heir will remain another three or four months.
In spite of these denials there was a subsequent activity that belied the assertions of the interested Germans.
Got News of Peace.
The first report that the crown prince was becoming uneasy reached here on Tuesday. It seems that on the last but Monday morning a special messenger, a major from the German general staff, a great friend of the former prince's, arrived from Germany, obviously with the last message about signing peace.
There was noticeable activity about the former prince's abode the following day, according to reports.
The correspondent immediately sought out Wilhelm and questioned him regarding the reports that he contemplated leaving Holland.
"I will stay here for at least three months after peace is signed and until everything is in order in Germany," the former crown prince replied. "The emblems may not change, I am engaged in political intrigue. I will only return to the throne if the German people want me to, and make me."

PACKERS OFFER HALF OWN PRICE FORTHEIR STOCK
Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—Chicago and other packers having offered to repurchase the 143,000,000 pounds of surplus army canned and cured meats at only from 25 to 50 per cent of the prices at which they sold the meats to the government, Secretary of War Baker rejected all of the bids today and directed the disposal of the stock through negotiations with purchasers of any quantity.
The war department will afford cities and states an opportunity to follow the example of Baltimore, which has offered $2,500 for a miscellaneous supply of the meats to be sold at cost throughout the city. Applications in the midwest should be made to the surplus property officer in the zone supply office of the central department of the army at Chicago.
"A majority of the bids received," Secretary Baker said, "were from packing concerns, many of them bidding exclusively for their own products. Highest prices offered for serial 8 bacon (in crates) were approximately 50 per cent of its cost to the government. Serial 10 bacon (packed in 12 pound cans) received bids of approximately 45 per cent of cost, corned beef hash 25 per cent of cost, and roast beef 25 per cent of cost price."

ALLIES WARN BERLIN NOT TO AID WAR ON POLAND
Clemenceau Note Refers to Secret Letter Seized by the Poles.
PARIS, June 26.—The German peace delegation has been informed in a note from Premier Clemenceau that the German government will be held strictly responsible for official support of any movement against Polish authority in the territory given Poland in Posen and in East and West Prussia.
Here is Letter.
The text of the note reads:
"Paris, June 25.—Mr. President: The allied and associated powers feel it necessary to direct the attention of the German government to the fact that the Polish authorities have come into possession of the attached official German dispatch, which states that, while the German government mean to sign the peace, they intend to give unofficial support by all the means in their power to local movements of resistance to the establishment of Polish authority in the territories allotted to Poland in Posen and in East and West Prussia, and to the occupation of Upper Silesia by the allied and associated powers.
In view of this information, the allied and associated powers think it necessary to inform the German government that they will hold them strictly responsible for seeing that at the time indicated in the treaty all troops and all officials indicated by the allied commission are withdrawn, and that in the event of local disturbances in resistance to the treaty no support or assistance to the insurgents is allowed to pass across the new frontier into Poland."
"G. CLEMENCEAU."
Here is Telegram.
The telegram referred to in the foregoing letter follows:
"POSEN, June 21, 1919.—The government will sign. Nevertheless, Horsing [provisional president] will proclaim for Silesia and Wig [provisional president] for western and eastern Prussia, war against the east. The government will officially declare its opposition, but will unofficially support the action by every means."

Mississippi Mob Burns Assailant After He Admits Crime.
Ellisville, Miss., June 26.—Trained for ten days through southern Mississippi by posse which included several hundred members of his own race, John Hartfield, Negro, confessed assailant of an Ellisville young woman, was captured desperately wounded in a canebreak this morning, rushed by automobile to the scene of his crime, hanged to a gum tree, and burned to ashes. His victim identified him and witnessed his execution.
Governor Is "Powerless."
Gov. Bilbo, petitioned during the day to intervene, in a statement issued at Jackson shortly before the lynching, declared himself "utterly powerless," and said interference would only lead to the deaths of hundreds of persons, and that "nobody can keep the inevitable from happening."
The lynching was conducted in a manner which the authorities characterized as "orderly." Guarded by a committee of citizens of Ellisville, Hartfield was taken first to the office of Dr. A. J. Carter, where, after examination his wounds, declared the Negro could not live more than twenty-four hours.
Hartfield was told what the crowd intended doing with him, but only repeated: "You have the right man."
Hanged by Hundreds.
Under the big gum tree Hartfield was hanged by a rope which was fastened to a limb of the same gum tree. The rope was hanged as soon as the rope could be pulled up by hundreds of hands.
Then occurred the first demonstration. While the body was in its death struggles, pistols were produced by men in the crowd and fired point blank at the swinging form. Before the rope had been cut by bullets, burning fags were thrown under the body and an hour later there was only a pile of ashes.
No arrests were made.

$31,000,000 CITY BUDGET GRANTS PAY INCREASES

Policemen Voted Additional Raise and Unions Get the Scale.

Chicago's annual appropriation bill, providing for expenditures out of the corporate fund of upward of $31,000,000, was recommended for passage last night by a unanimous vote of the city council committee on finance.

The bill provides for recognition of all recognized union wage scales. It gives policemen and firemen a maximum of $1,740 a year, $40 more than the committee's first recommendation. Vacations with pay are allowed for all employees who have been in the city service one year or longer. This includes laborers, clerks, and all employees in the classified service.

$450,000 Over Revenue.
The increases allowed the policemen, firemen, and other employees nearly reached the point figured on a $145 per $100 of assessed valuation city tax rate, instead of the $135 allowed by the legislature. The budget committee estimated that the city would have a deficit of $450,000 over the revenue, but it was declared that the apparent deficit could be made up from salvage and miscellaneous revenues. The budget goes to the council this morning and will be acted on Monday, the last day allowed by law for the passage of it.

Direct cleaning department laborers, who are on a strike, failed to get their demand for an increase of $1 a day. The budget gives all laborers employed by the city an increase of 50 cents per day, the rate being based, the members of the committee said, on what was paid by outside firms for similar work.

The city hall clerks, who are organized, were given nearly as much as they demanded. As all civil service employees were given "automatic" increases in addition to the flat yearly increase of an average of $200 each, the demand of the clerks was virtually met.

Additional Raise Voted.
When the committee resumed its session yesterday the pay of the policemen and firemen had been raised from $1,580 to $1,700. It was not until a few minutes before the committee adjourned on the budget that this scale was boosted to $1,740. Ald. Joseph O. Kester and T. F. Moran fought for the increase for the men, and obtained a unanimous vote of the committee for it.

There has been a lot of talk about a strike by the policemen and the firemen and other employees, said Ald. Kester. "All this can be averted by paying the policemen and firemen $1,740. I know they will be satisfied with this. I talked to several police and fire delegations, and this is what was told."

Granting of Vacations.
The granting of vacations with pay to all employees in the city's classified service, provided in this year's budget, is the practice of the city in former years. There was some apprehension on the part of union labor heads that this provision might not be included this year, but the aldermen openly declared that there never was any intention on the part of the committee of eliminating it.

The budget eliminates the second deputy's office of the police department, despite an appeal made to the committee by Chief of Police Garrity to have this office retained. Chief Garrity also asked for $50,000 to buy thief catching automobiles for the police, but the committee did not act on this request.

Ald. Walter P. Steffen, chairman of the council police committee, asked for an appropriation of $5,000 for his committee's investigation of crime. This was allowed the committee by taking $5,000 of Chief Garrity's $15,000 contingent fund from him.

Ald. Captain sought to save some money by having the committee abolish the jobs of police captains, but he did not get any support.

Etelson Gets More.
Corporation Counsel Etelson asked the committee to increase the appropriation for his department. He asked for an added appropriation of $100,000 and the committee allowed him $60,000, in addition to $35,000 for Chester E. Cleveland's services in fighting the street and elevated car fare boosts.

Commissioner Robertson asked the committee to appropriate $22,000 to pay the school nurses for the next two months. The committee took away all funds for school health work, notifying the school board it would have to finance it hereafter. Commissioner Robertson said the nurses already had been transferred to general work, and that they were needed during the hot spell. He was allowed to keep them for two months.

Igoe's Pay Raised.
City Clerk Igoe's salary was boosted from $5,000 to $5,500 a year, in conformity with an act of the legislature allowing the increase.

To make the budget "pay out" the committee took away the $1,000,000 it had allowed for additional street cleaning and garbage removal work for this year, and used it for pay raises.

All the members of the committee pledged themselves to vote against the budget if the council tacked anything on it to bring it over the estimated revenue.

This year's budget is about $6,000,000 in excess of last year's appropriation bill. Most of the increase comes from pay raises. The employees in the civil service grades got increases of about $1,700,000, and the union labor increases were about one-half of this. The balance of the increase is for departmental activities.

Hunt "Dimples," Hotel Aid, to Clear $200 Shortage
After Lillian Grantz, a cashier at the West Dearborn hotel, disappeared Saturday noon and did not return Monday, the management audited her books and alleges it found a shortage of $200. A warrant for her arrest, charging embezzlement, was sworn out yesterday. She is said to be pretty, and to have earned the sobriquet of "Dimples."

Aldermen Battle with Strike and Budget Worries

Night Session of City Council Finance Committee Which Wrestled for Hours with Labor and Other Municipal Troubles, and Labor Agent Heading Garbage Handlers' Walkout.

DR. JOHN DILL ROBERTSON.

INTRODUCING 'BIG TIM,' CITY'S NEW DICTATOR

A Few Facts About Labor Leader and His Friends.

Who is "Big Tim" Murphy? Just now Chicagoans are most interested in the fact that he is business agent for the street sweepers and garbage collectors' union, whose strike is considered a serious menace to public health.

But that doesn't tell the whole story of "Tim" Murphy; not by a jugful. His record flashes across the recent history of certain aspects of Chicago life. The police have reason to be familiar with him. So has the state's attorney's office. He has given both some anxious moments.

Product of Stock Yards.
"Big Tim" is a product of the stock yards district. Although he is only 33 years old now, he is said to stand high in the inner councils of union labor—the "Moss" Enright brand of union labor. He served a term as representative from the Fourth Chicago district in the general assembly, but was defeated for renomination last time by Frank McDermott.

In 1914 he was arrested for threatening to "get" Patrolman Ray Grabel after an altercation at Fifty-fifth and Halsted streets and was fined $10 by Judge Mahoney in the stock yards court. "Tim" announced at that time that he was the bodyguard of James Hamilton Lewis, then senator.

In April, 1917, "Tim" shot his brother, James, in the latter's cigar store at Forty-third and Halsted streets. That little quarrel must have been patched up for James didn't prosecute.

"Pal" of Criminals.
When "Spike" O'Donnell, now in the Joliet prison, escaped following his arrest for complicity in the robbery of the Stockmen's Trust and Savings bank, the police accused "Tim" of sheltering him in his barn. He is also said to have engineered O'Donnell's escape.

"Sonny" Dunne, "Moss" Enright's brother-in-law and a frequent guest of the police, is mentioned among "Tim's" cronies. So are a number of other whose names have appeared in connection with labor sluggings, robberies and other similar affairs.

The Legislative Voters' league condemned him vigorously when he sought reelection to the general assembly. Politically, Murphy was aligned with the "Allied Democracy" forces in the primary he was charged with attempting to break up meetings of the "regular" Democrats by sending gangs of rowdies to them.

"Moss" Enright's influence is said to be responsible for Murphy's present position as walking delegate for the garbage men. "Tim" has been known long as a protégé of Enright.

Second Deputy Chief Frazier—whose office has been under fire before the council committee on police for failure to suppress vice and gambling—fore-saw yesterday many complications as the result of the council finance committee's refusal to appropriate him funds.

The deputy also criticized the transfer of all his policemen to other stations—action taken by the chief at the police committee's suggestion.

"I have fifteen complaints in my office," he explained, "wherein it is charged that the precinct police have failed to act against resorts. I should make arrests, but I can't unless I call the local station into each case. And that, of course, would be folly."

Frazier admitted the situation made it appear that the precinct commanders involved were either crooked or "very incompetent." "But what can I do?" he demanded.

Another difficulty the second deputy anticipated concerned motion pictures. "The budget carries an appropriation for the censors, who may recommend, but have no authority to suppress objectionable plays," he pointed out. "But I, who am empowered by ordinance to act, have been allowed no salary."

It was suggested that Frazier might display public spirit by serving without compensation.

"Or perhaps I may serve," he amended, "and sue the city. I'm a legal officer until the police reorganization ordinance is amended—whether the council proposes to pay me or not."

Judge Brentano Criticized.
Judge Theodore Brentano of the Criminal court was criticized severely yesterday by the Englewood Business Men's association.

The judge ruled, June 21, John O'Reilly and Michael Lillis, convicted of robbing Hamilton's cloak and millinery store, 6383 South Halsted street, Hinton G. Clabaugh, former chief of the local bureau of investigation of the department of justice, testified before the civil service commission that he thought the South Chicago police station was efficiently managed.

Capt. Joseph Smith and several of his aids are on trial, charged with numerous irregularities, including the escape of bank bandits.

MONEY WHEELS FAIL TO WHIR AT STREET FAIR

With a yelp of "Hey, rube," four followers of the "white tops" packed their money wheels back in the old box and started for more verdant surroundings. They had been told by the Sixteenth Street Business Men's and Property Owners' association to move off of the street carnival grounds, between Homan and Independence avenues.

"No gambling allowed in any carnival we have charge of," said M. Blaz of the business men's organization. "Four men with money games tried to open up, but they didn't get away with it."

"See that sign? That's the joint they closed up. It's what I call white," said an ex-soldier with a kewpie concession.

The sign read:
"Buy Your Ice Cream Cones Here—Proceeds Go to Help Motherless Infants"

SAYS HOSPITAL REFUSED HELP TO AUTO VICTIM

Deputy Coroner Samuel L. Davis and police of the Warren avenue station are investigating charges that officials of the Presbyterian hospital refused to go to the aid of a man knocked down by an automobile driven by Harry Zacharias, 5925 South May street. Zacharias says he rushed to the hospital for first aid, but was told it did not accept "emergency cases." Mukhtarman finally was taken to the county hospital, where he died yesterday.

CLERKS ACCEPT OFFER OF CITY HALL PAY BOOST

O'Donnell Places Blame for Unrest Upon Council Body.

Blame for the unrest among municipal employees was laid on the city council finance committee last night by Simon O'Donnell, president of the Chicago Building Trades Council. He said that as the workers had been promised increases if the new tax bills went through, and as they had worked hard to help put them over, they were entitled to the money.

"I am unable to say whether any more strikes are going to be called," he said. "It is up to the finance committee."

"There seems to be a dispute over vacations. Some of the workers who have been getting them have been told the city cannot allow them this year."

Clerks Accept Offer.
Eight hundred city hall clerks who got their hours through civil service examinations held a meeting in the Masonic temple last night to hear the report of the committee appointed to look after an increase in pay for them. They voted to accept the amounts offered them by the finance committee, although they were somewhat lower than demanded. The clerks have a union known as Office Employees Association, local No. 12715, headed by James Flynn, president, and Joseph J. Elliott, treasurer. Flynn and Elliott told the clerks the finance committee would allow them a minimum wage of $1,050 for junior clerks, $1,200 the next grade, $1,320 the third grade, and $1,440 for the fourth grade. The fourth grade men will get $1,500 after the first of next year. The clerks have been paid starting at $960, and the increase figures out about $120 a year.

No Bricklayer Strike.
Peter O'Shaunessy, president of the bricklayers' union, denied a report that city bricklayers would go on strike today. They are demanding an increase of 12 1/2 cents an hour. Mr. O'Donnell also denied the report.

About forty different labor unions, through their business agents, have put in demands with the finance committee for more money. Some have been recently organized, while others have been organized for years. They have all been preparing for strikes if their demands were not granted.

PROSECUTOR HIT IN BOOZE RUNNING CRASH; MAY DIE
Hammond, Ind., June 26. (Special.)—While dodging Sheriff Lew Barnes of Lake county and driving at a terrific rate of speed three East Chicago men early yesterday with an auto load of liquor crashed at a crossroads south of this city into an auto driven by State Attorney D. E. Boone of Hammond and August Zelke, chief of the Indiana Harbor Belt railway police. Boone was said to be hurt fatally and is at St. Margaret's hospital. Zelke was hurt internally, but will recover. The occupants of the bootlegging car were hurt, but not seriously. Federal authorities arrested the alleged bootleggers today on a charge of bringing liquor into the state. The men, Michael Blasky, Joseph Petoney, and Frank Horvath of East Chicago, are held by the Hammond police until the outcome of Boone's injuries is learned.

Three Women in Health Resort Car Hurt in Crash

Three women were injured, one seriously, and traffic in North Clark street was tied up for a mile early last night, when an automobile and a northbound Clark street car crashed together at Granville avenue. The automobile was wrecked. Miss Florence Ashur, a patient at the North Shore health resort, Winnetka, driver of the automobile, suffered a broken nose, severe cuts and bruises, and internal injuries. Two other women in the car were thrown out and injured internally. Hjalmar Nordgren, physical director at the resort, was not hurt.

"Caseknife Burglar" Robs Woman as She Looks On

Mrs. Lena Stahlmann was sewing in the kitchen of her home at 2522 North Leavitt street yesterday afternoon when she glanced up and saw a man crawling on his hands and knees toward her purse on the dining room table. He drew a pistol and placed his finger on the trigger, warning for silence. Then he departed with the purse, containing $10, and some trinkets. Police said he was the "caseknife burglar" who has pried open several doors to north side residences recently.

mand or they'll stay on strike forever. And don't forget the garbage in the alley!"

Deaf to City's Plea.
The business agent said Richter's plea that the finance committee was attempting to protect the taxpayers' interests, too, left him unimpressed. "I'm going out now," he declared as he stepped into a big automobile, "to see how I can get the committee in even more Dutch than it is. The members may think because some of us were brought up back of the yards they can put something over. But I want to say, though I never had a silver spoon in my mouth, I've got a lot of brains in my head."

All of the 5,200 strikers now out on city work, including the street sweepers, bridge laborers, and asphalt layers, are under Murphy's control.

Chief of Police Garrity, in preparing last night to avert the patrolmen's threatened walkout, stood between two fires.

"While I doubtless have authority to suspend the men involved in an actual strike," he declared, "I sympathize wholly with their demands."

"Should their leaders care to come to my office today I will conduct them before the finance committee of the council."

"I believe insufficient pay largely has undermined the department's morale. But I hope in a crisis involving a proposal to quit work and leave the city at the mercy of the criminal element sane counsel will prevail."

The chief said he thought $2,000 a year was little enough to pay patrolmen. He admitted, if the strike vote is affirmative, a grave situation will be produced in the city's war on crime.

Crisis Looms Today.
Michael O'Connor, president of the patrolmen's club, said he would appear before the chief at 9 o'clock this morning. The tentative budget will be offered to the council by the finance committee an hour later. It will be ordered printed and a day's delay will ensue.

So it is improbable it will have consideration before Monday. As it passed from the committee's hands last night, it contained a recommendation that the pay of first class patrolmen be increased from $1,500 to $1,700 annually.

"That amount, according to O'Connor, is not enough."

The meeting on which the strike will be voted, he stated, "will be held at Colonial hall, 26 West Randolph street. I called after 100 patrolmen gathered informally in my office this morning."

Frowns on Strike.

"I do not favor a strike; I am for moderation. But I doubt there are 300 patrolmen in the department who will

ROBISON FINED $100 FOR SWAT AT JUDGE HAYES

C. S. Robison, 1138 Hyde Park boulevard, president of the Aladdin Products company, 312 North May street, was fined $100 and costs yesterday on a charge of assault and battery.

Judge John R. Newcomb, Judge Howard Hayes charged Robison, while intoxicated, struck him in front of the Illinois Athletic club Wednesday night.

An apology offered by Mr. Robison before the case was heard was refused by the judge and the two left the court without speaking.

Judge Hayes testified as he came out of the club, Mr. Robison bumped into him. Robison then started his automobile, but caused the sidewalk to be clouded with fumes. When the judge called his attention, Robison cursed him, the judge said.

Patrolman Joseph Zell refused to arrest Robison on the judge's complaint. In the altercation, according to Judge Hayes' testimony, Robison struck Judge Travers, the judge's guest, then dealt a blow at the judge, knocking off his spectacles and loosening two teeth and a gold filling.

Judge Newcomb rebuked the patrolman for not arresting Robison.

Robison was fined $100 and costs.

the average worker—their calling is very hazardous—and their wives and children must be protected. If they are injured or sick they receive only half pay.

"I don't think the public understands the situation. Considering the peril in which a policeman constantly stands and all the other considerations I have enumerated, I believe $2,000 a year is little enough compensation."

There are now four grades of patrolmen. Their pay ranges from $1,200 to the $1,600 maximum.

Cops Demand Action.
The meeting in the club's headquarters, 48 West Washington street, was impromptu.

When O'Connor arrived at 9 o'clock thirty policemen had assembled. At noon their number had been augmented by sixty or more.

"What we want is action," announced a young patrolman for an out-in-the-suburbs station.

"They can get their shoes," proclaimed another, "that I, for one, will chuck my star in the lake before I'll work for $1,700."

"It's $2,000, or to hell with them!" proclaimed a round copper from a north side station.

Scold at Duty to City.
O'Connor spoke of their duty to the city.

"What do you mean—'duty'?" demanded a member of the ultra-radical group. "Has the city got any duty toward us?"

"This talk about duty is all right, but a copper's only human after all."

"The administration and the public expect us to be on the square," he continued. "But they try to make thieves out of us by not paying us enough to keep body and soul together."

Send Letter to Council.
O'Connor again urged moderation. The assemblage insisted, however, that he call the meeting Sunday.

It then insisted he sign a letter to the mayor and city council. In part it said:

"It is a fact that during the last five years the cost of all commodities has increased from 70 to 160 per cent, while the patrolmen of Chicago, to ward us?"

"Another important item is the purchase of shoes—the cost of which has increased 100 per cent."

Cite Scant Increases.
The firemen's letter to Ald. Richter contained the following:

"Whereas, The firemen, in addition to the ordinary expenses, must furnish their uniforms and pay their own doctor and hospital bills for sickness or injuries received in the discharge of duty; and

"Whereas, The members of the fire department have only received a 5 per cent increase in nearly ten years, we feel our request of $500 is a modest and just one, about 50 per cent of the increased cost of living. Anything less will result in lowering the high standard of efficiency through dissatisfaction of the members."

Halt Garbage Hauling.
All over the city the teams were idle, but some independent teamsters from other unions started out to haul rubbish and garbage, but they were quickly stopped by Murphy's men and the teamsters under the direction of Edward J. Coleman, secretary and treasurer of local No. 711.

South Water street commission merchants who employ private teams to haul away refuse were asked to let the waste stay on the streets and sidewalks until the strike is settled.

ROUMANIA QUEEN LIBERTY GODDESS IN THE RED EAST

Vopicka, Returning, Says
She Killed Bolshevism
in the Balkans.

BY J. H. CLAYTON.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

(Copyright: 1919: By the Tribune Company.)

PARIS, June 26.—"Food has proved the best antidote for bolshevism," said Charles J. Vopicka, American minister to Roumania, Serbia and Bulgaria, who arrived in Paris today on his way to his Chicago home for a short vacation.

Due to the untiring efforts of Col. Wells and Anderson of the American relief commission and others connected with the American mission, Roumanian's food supply has been averted, and a revolt of the peasants checked before it occurred. Roumania is happy in a new found political freedom.

Roumania Conquers Radicals.

Mr. Vopicka says from France on Saturday on the Saville for his first vacation in two years. He has been in Roumania throughout the last two terrible years when famine threatened and the government was unable to avert it. The struggles of the beloved Queen Marie to obtain for her people was finally resolved when the American relief commission was able to secure large quantities of supplies into the land.

Throughout the early spring when the people looked forward to a summer without food, when political dis-sentiments pointed to a revolution as almost inevitable, when the bolsheviks on the east hammered at the gates, Queen Marie fought to bring about a peace for her country. According to Vopicka her efforts and those of Roumania's idealists have been resolved. The problem of dividing the land among the peasants has been solved and the partitions completed within the last month, Mr. Vopicka said. Complete political freedom has been granted to all persons and a universal suffrage proclaimed. Roumania stands as the real bulwark on the east against bolshevism.

Red Menace Gone.

"All danger of bolshevism in Rou-mania has disappeared," Mr. Vopicka said. "Food-American food—has quelled the turbulent unrest which certain political parties fomented during the dark days when it looked as if the crops would be small and the peasants forced to tighten their belts and starve at hunger for another summer and winter. Now Roumania is fighting bolshevism on the north, east, and west with the Russians and Hungarians and, thanks to the timely aid of the allies, Roumania is fighting a winning fight."

Mr. Vopicka is very optimistic about the situation in the Balkans and the near east, if the allies take a firm hold.
He sees rifts in the clouds of black bolshevism which have hovered over middle Europe since Russia succeeded in overthrowing the czar.

Very Happy Land.

Roumania is a very happy country since the solution of the land problem and the granting of complete political freedom to all classes and nationalities. Queen Marie, the minister assured, is beloved by all her people, who have seen the actual results of her long fight with political reactionaries.

which resulted in a complete victory for the queen and the people.

"On my journey from Bucharest
I came through Transylvania and Czechoslovakia," Mr. Vopicka said.
"Throughout Transylvania the people who have recently been added to the Roumanian empire have been given the vote and a real voice in the government, whether they may be Hungarians, Roumanians, Slavs, or Jews.
The result is they are devoted to the new sovereign."

Mr. Vopicka sees a great future for American commerce throughout middle and southern Europe. The Czech-Slovak, Roumanians, Serbians, and Jugo-Slavs all hold a love for the country which brought them food and life during their dark hours.

"Throughout the days when the news from home was scarce and far between we have kept in touch with American affairs through the columns of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE's Paris edition and home papers," Mr. Vopicka said. "They have given us a breath of home when home meant very much."

SOCIALISTS SEE TARDIEU AS NEXT FRENCH PREMIER

Clemenceau Expected to Resign in Favor of Paris
Agent in the U. S.

BY KENNETH ADAMS.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

(Copyright: 1919: By the Tribune Company.)

BREST, June 26, via Paris, June 26.

Here in this stronghold of Socialism the men who make politics what it is in this end of France predict the resignation of Premier Clemenceau shortly after peace is signed.

Political gossip has it "The Tiger" will retire with colors flying, taking no chances of asking the chamber of deputies to vote its confidence in the government. Much of this talk comes from circles in which are the supporters of Deputy Goude of Brest, member of the extreme left, who has led the fight against Clemenceau.

Arrival of the Justice.

This speculation is coincident with the arrival here from the Black sea of the French warship Justice. Now, it was aboard the Justice that the saltars mutinied in Sebastopol and in whose behalf Deputy Goude demanded amnesty, lining up 137 votes in support of the motion, 168 members ab-staining from voting on the question.

The arrival of the Justice and subsequent happenings give those who like to indulge in political gossip an opportunity to prognosticate regarding Clemenceau and the likelihood of his retirement. The Socialists naturally would like the premier to seek a vote of confidence and hope to overthrow him and his cabinet. But Clemenceau will do no such thing, so the talk runs.

Tardieu for Successor?

chamber predict that he will address

'IRISH REPUBLIC WILL PAY FENIAN BONDS'—VALERA

If Ireland Is Freed 1866 Issue Will Be Redeemed.

New York, June 26.—If the Irish republic gains its freedom it will assume full responsibility for the $200,000 Fenian bond issue, as yet unpaid, which was floated in the United States in 1866 on behalf of Ireland's cause, it was announced here today by Ramon de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," who said he regarded these bonds as a "debt of honor."

Details of the payment were now being arranged, to be associated with the loan issue which the Sinn Feilers are hoping to float in this country.

Debt of Irish Nation.

"We acknowledge the indebtedness of the Irish nation," Mr. de Valera said. "The payments would be made out of the new bond issue, the notes of which would be exchanged for the old bonds."

The notes issued during these years by the Fenian leaders were in small denominations, and were purchased mainly by working people.

Although the Fenians had not been officially recognized by President Andrew Johnson, he, upon the request of a Fenian delegation, released from prison John A. Mitchell, grandfather of the late John Purroy Mitchell, former mayor of New York, so that he could go to Paris and act as fiscal agent for the loan.

"No Title to Ireland."

Mr. de Valera made public tonight a copy of a message addressed to the peace conference by himself, Arthur Griffith and Count Plunkett shortly before he sailed for America, in which a hearing on Ireland's "claim to be recognized as an independent sovereign state" was urged.

The message, dated May 26, declared that English rule of Ireland
"has been and is intolerable," that "a lasting peace is impossible if the legiti-mate claims of self determination of nations such as Ireland be denied," and that Great Britain "can show no just claim or title to hold or possess Ireland."

Harry J. Boland, de Valera's secretary, today announced that the Sinn

SCORNFUL AFTER 7 YEARS, GIRL SUES FOR $25,000

After waiting seven years for Michael J. Maloney, saloonkeeper at 54 East Twelfth street, to keep his alleged promise to marry her, Miss Elizabeth Jones, 2508 Indiana avenue, has filed a suit for $25,000 damages against him in the Circuit court.

According to the story told by Miss Jones, Maloney first came into her life about nine years ago, when she was married to another man.

"In 1912 Maloney insisted I get a divorce, which I did," Miss Jones told Attorney Schaffner. "Then he gave me a diamond ring and promised to marry me. After that we lived together for about three years at a south side hotel."

Finally he rented an apartment for me in Michigan avenue, where we lived three years. Last April when he insisted I marry him, he said he would have had me had never intended to."

Fein leader is planning a tour of the country within the next few weeks.

"Steals Democratic Thunder."

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—The senate's recent adoption of the Borah resolution calling upon President Wilson to obtain a hearing for Ireland at the peace conference was a Republican attempt to draw the Irish vote away from the Democratic party, Senator Phelan of California charged in the senate today.

The California senator has long been an advocate of Irish freedom and his speech indicated he felt a bit nettled at the action of the Republicans in "stealing his thunder." His speech created considerable amusement in the senate.

cial.]—The large number of excessive sentences of soldiers during the war, which caused the recent attacks on the court martial system and which are now being commuted by the secretary of war, were due to the inexperience of the reviewing authorities, according to the board appointed by Secretary Baker to pass upon Col. Ansell's proposed reforms.

The board recommends that two years' experience be required of court martial officers in time of peace, but declares it impossible to apply such a rule in time of war.

Radical Changes Rejected.

All the radical changes in the present court martial system recommended by Col. Ansell are disapproved by the board. Col. Ansell's suggestion that the present summary court martial procedure should be changed to approximate the practice in civil courts was rejected outright and also his plan to introduce into the army system a permanent "soldiers' counsel."

The board recommended, however, that counsel for the defense be provided at each general and special court martial, the individual to be changed from time to time.

The members of the commission which was appointed May 10 by Secretary Baker are Maj. Gen. Francis J.
Kernan of the regular army, Maj. Gen.
John F. O'Ryan, former commander of the 27th division, and Col. Hugh W.
Ogden, a Boston lawyer, who served as judge advocate of the Rainbow division.

Opposes "Soldiers' Counsel."

"The copy proposed by the acting judge advocate general in concurrence with the war plane division," states the board's preliminary report, "understood to introduce into our system a 'soldiers' counsel' as a standing functionary. In the opinion of this board the detail of a subordinate officer thus singled out and made to appear as the special friend and protector of the soldiers of that command would create therein an atmosphere of antagonism much to be regretted."

"The basic assumption seems to be that officers generally are indifferent to the rights and welfare of the soldiers under their command, that a natural antagonism exists and that the soldier, if he is to depend upon his officers for justice in the general case, will fail to get it; and therefore a special protector must be provided."

"There is in this proposed scheme a subtle suggestion of a state of things not existent in fact but which, if the scheme were in operation, would soon be developed."

"For these considerations the board has stricken out this proposed innovation. It has, however, substituted a rule that for each general and special case court martial counsel shall be provided. This individual will change from time to time just as the trial

"Trials Shock Conscience."

Bedford Springs, Pa., June 26.—
Sixty per cent of the general court martial cases of the American army during the war never should have been tried, declared Lieut. Col. Samuel T. Ansell, former judge advocate of the Pennsylvania Bar association.

Seventy per cent of the cases, he said, were not well tried "according to reasonable common sense and un-technical standard," adding that 20 per cent were so poorly tried their record cannot be relied upon, and in all 75 per cent of the convictions "were such as to shock the conscience."

"The military code or articles of war," he added, "utterly ignore the fact that the soldier still is a citizen, and, as such, is entitled to fair trial and impartial administration of justice."

20,000 LUNCHES, 15,000 KIDS, BUT SPONSORS FAST

"Volunteers'" Washington Park Picnic Feast Is Record Event.

BY MAUDE MARTIN EVERS.

"Say, what did you get in your lunch box?" O, you ought to see all I got. Six peaches and one orange and a couple sandwiches and a whole cake; and say, that kid over there found a cent in his box."

"Huh, that's nothing. I got a dime in mine and I let my sister take it and she lent it to another girl and the other girl lost it."

"Was at the annual poor kids' picnic in Washington park yesterday—all day."

As you know, Mayor Thompson has proclaimed the Thursday in June, just before the public schools close, Children's day, and that means a picnic in Washington park.

Volunteers Bear Burden.

The volunteers of America have undertaken to make arrangements and carry through the program of picnicking, and certainly they did see every boy and girl and that everybody had a good time.

Fifteen thousand children and lots of "grownups" attended the picnic. There were 20,000 lunch boxes, and about 200 gallons of ice cream, and crackerjack, and lemonade, and everything.

The park cops were almost worn out trying to keep the kids from doubling in the lunch line, not only from doubling, but tripling, too.

They Shone at Lunch Hour.

They had races and won prizes and the boys played ball—and some went wading in the lagoon, but the greatest game of all, and the most thrilling moment, was when the noon hour came and everybody stood in line for a lunch box and ice cream and lemonade—that was when the cops worked. As soon as one kid was served he made a wide detour and joined the lunch line again.

Mothers with little tiny babies and children from 3 to 15—from the west side, from the north, and from the south—they all frolicked together in the sun.

All the little kids from the Voluntary Day nursery, whose mothers could not bring them, were tended lovingly and made happy by all the ice cream they could eat—and prizes!

Even the kids who were too little to understand that when they line up for a race they must run, were given a prize, anyhow. Dolls and fans and wrist watches for the girls and tops and balls for the boys.

Mrs. Connolly Feasts.

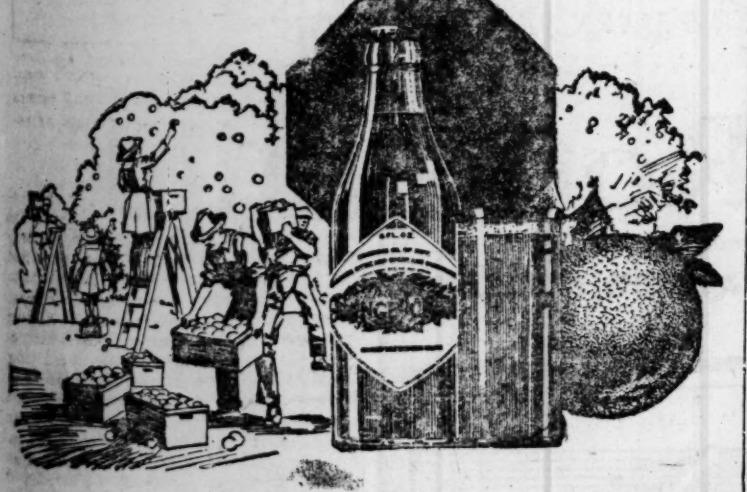

Just after the picnic feast was over and only paper strewn all over the grass told the story, up dashed Mrs. Connolly out of breath.

"What? Nothing left for me to eat? Why, I've bin coming to this picnic for twenty-six years and never did the kids happen to me before."

"Nor me, either, Mrs. Connolly," roared "Chauncey," one of the oldest newboys in Chicago, or as he is seldom known, Mister Nathaniel Pohl, who is now beyond 50.

Regardless of picnic lunch, Chauncey and Mrs. Connolly stayed to see that the kids had a good time.

And how could the kids help it?

Ward's ORANGE-CRUSH

A NEW-FOUND tingle and tang in Orange-Crush....an orange flavor that delights because Orange-Crush is made from the fruit oil pressed from fresh ripe oranges and such other wholesome ingredients as pure granulated sugar, carbonated water and citric acid, which is a natural acid found in oranges, lemons and grapefruit.

There's a refreshing snappiness about Orange-Crush that brings new joy into the parched palate. Drink it every time you are thirsty. You're certain to like it's ice-cold, sparkling deliciousness.

MEET AT HAGUE IN YEAR ON WORLD CHURCH PARLEY

Bishop Anderson Tells of Plans for "Faith and Order" Conference.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Pope Benedict's refusal to accept the invitation of Bishop Charles P. Anderson of Chicago to join in the world conference on faith and order was a disappointment to Bishop Anderson as well as many members of the Roman Catholic church.

Bishop Anderson will speak on his four months' visit to Europe this evening at the cathedral of St. Peter and Paul, Washington boulevard and North Dearborn. He was in his office yesterday for the first time since his return and expressed himself freely in regard to his visit to the Vatican.

"I do not desire," he said, "to conceal the fact I was disappointed at the refusal of Pope Benedict to accept our invitation to send delegates to the world conference. There were many members of the Roman Catholic church who also were disappointed at the refusal. We were, however, treated with great courtesy and were given a private audience with the pope."

Many invitations Accepted.

"He spoke some English and we could understand some Latin, but for the most part the interview was by means of an interpreter."

"We consider that so many have accepted the invitation that the world conference on faith and order will be held. We probably will hold a conference for organization at The Hague in a year or eighteen months and then decide on the place and date of holding the world conference. The Episcopal church is acting only in the capacity of calling the conference. Once it has met and organized, our duties are over and the conference will follow its own choices. It will not be

35 YEARS IN SCHOOL, SHE RETIRES TO GET 'HOME LIFE'S JOYS'

A career of 35 years with the Chicago public schools was closed officially yesterday, when teachers of the Mulligan school, 1855 Sheffield avenue, gave a farewell luncheon for Mrs. Anna E. Reich of 1722 Burling street.

Speeches were made by Principal Hannah Schiff and others. Mrs. Reich was presented with a gold wrist watch. She has been at the Mulligan school 29 years.

She is the wife of Sergeant John Reich, now stationed at detention home No. 1. He has been with the department 23 years.

Mrs. Reich announced she was resigning to "enjoy home life."

"America will have a hard time to live up to its reputation. We were told so many times how good we were I wondered if we could measure up to the standard. The people of Europe seem to think we are as good as we think we ought to be."

"I do not want my son's body brought to America," he said. "I prefer to have him lie amid the scenes of his labors and where his victories were won."

TAX DODGING DRUGGIST CALLS CLERK FIXER

Carl A. Seuring, druggist, of 1501 East Sixty-seventh street, was slated to pay taxes to the amount of $49.20. He says that himself. He says, in continuation, that when Martin Hogan, whom he knew to be a clerk in the tax department of the county treasurer's office, offered to settle his taxes for $24 he thought it was all right and gave Hogan a check for that amount.

Later when an investigator for the office of State's Attorney Hoyne notified him that unless the $49.20 was paid a suit would be filed for collection, Seuring sent for Hogan. From that point on the stories of Seuring and Hogan, told to Assistant State's Attorney Duval, do not jibe at all. "Hogan told me he had fixed everything up, but that some one must have made a mistake," says Seuring. "I never told him any such thing," says Hogan. "And more than that, I never received any check from him."

But the state's attorney's office has a check, canceled, and bearing the signature of one Martin Hogan.

MILLIONS SPENT BY BOLSHIEVIKI TO OVERTHROW U. S.

Secret Service Bares a Plot with Headquarters in Chicago.

Washington, D. C., June 26.—Provision for vigorous steps by the federal government against bomb throwers and other anarchists and radicals were made in the sundry civil appropriation bill as reported today to the senate.

Among the measures recommended were large additional appropriations for the department of justice, and legislation continuing permanent wartime regulations as to purchase, storage, manufacture, sale, and distribution of explosives.

In reporting the bill the senate appropriation committee increased from $1,400,000 to $2,000,000 the fund of the department of justice for general suppression of crime, and added $300,000 for a special fund to enforce the law against alien anarchists through deportations.

License Sales of Explosives.
The amendment added to continue the explosives regulation law after declaration of peace, provides for strict licensing and supervision of all sales of explosives under the bureau of mines.

Intention of government officials to deal vigorously with anarchists and other law breakers was disclosed today. Francis P. Garvan of the department of justice bureau of investigation, told the committee that, with increased funds proposed, the department plans an active campaign.

"We have found conditions are quite serious throughout the country," said Mr. Garvan. "We are asking $2,000,000 and we have every reason to believe that the Russian bolsheviks are pouring money in here at that rate a month."

Plot to Destroy Government.
Mr. Garvan was asked specifically whether there was an organized effort to destroy the federal government, to which question he replied:
"Certainly. We have evidence to show that, and that is also shown by the tremendous amount of money they are spending. The condition is serious throughout the country."

New York, Chicago, and Paterson, N. J., he said, are centers of anarchistic activity. When asked if the department has information that another outbreak of bomb outrages is planned for July 4, Mr. Garvan said:
"There is a great deal of talk to that effect. The number of radical papers found in the mails has increased over 150 papers since the armistice was signed. We have to take now over 450 papers, read and digest them."

Wants Deportation Fund.
Mr. Garvan urged the funds for deportation of alien anarchists be increased, adding:
"If we can't get it so that we can round up those men and upon proper proof rush them back to Europe, you will find this agitation subsiding very rapidly."

Catholics Fight Radicalism.
St. Louis, Mo., June 26.—Resolutions declaring radicalism can be best combated by sound moral and religious instruction in the school and demanding the abolition of child labor and the freedom of Christian education were adopted at the concluding session of the sixteenth annual convention of the Catholic Educational association here today.

Opponents Leading
Nearly 2 to 1.

Fargo, N. D., June 26.—With 170 scattered precincts, largely from towns and cities, heard from the average vote on the seven measures of the national Nonpartisan league, passed by the last legislature and referred to the electors today, stood 11,191 against and 5,686 for.

The voters on the other six measures will apparently follow the first.

These figures are the votes on the first of the referred measures, which was the printing bill providing for official newspapers. Few of the rural districts have reported and the returns are expected to come in slowly.

Estimates are that the total vote on the referred measures will run above the 100,000 mark, exceeding the vote of approximately 80,000 cast for governor at the last election.

Object of the Election.

The industrial commission bill provides for a commission which would control the state owned industries authorized by bills already passed. The Bank of North Dakota would provide funds for carrying out the general program. Five other laws being voted upon deal with education, taxation, state printing, emigration, and judicial redistricting.

All state, county, and municipal funds would be deposited in the Bank of North Dakota.

Townley Claims Victory.

Jackson, Minn., June 26.—[Special.]—President A. C. Townley of the National Nonpartisan league in a statement tonight to the Associated Press regarding the referendum election in North Dakota today said:

"In my opinion all seven of the referred laws will succeed by majorities ranging between 15,000 and 30,000 votes. The Bank of North Dakota and the industrial commission law, the keystone measures of our industrial program, will get the largest majorities, but I believe that all five of the other laws will be ratified by big majorities."

READ TOWNLEY SPEECHES AT HIS SEDITION TRIAL

Jackson, Minn., June 26.—Long extracts from addresses by A. C. Townley at meetings at New Ulm, Minn., in 1917 and 1918 were read into the record in District court here this afternoon at the trial of President Townley of the National Nonpartisan league and his former lieutenant, Joseph Gilbert, who are charged with conspiracy to commit sedition.

In both addresses, as read in court, Townley discussed the war and devoted most of his time to consideration of economic issues and to assailing "war profiteers." The addresses seemed to be quite similar. Townley charged in both speeches that in 1915 "the profits of war corporations were $4,000,000,000," and he demanded that the wealth of the nation should be conscripted as well as the men.

FORD STOR FOR NEWS CITY EDITOR

'Tribune' Executive Origin of It
Led to Edit

BY PHILIP K. Mount Clemens, Mich. [Special.]—The Ford was adjourned today in order to give A. G. Stevenson a chance to get an automobile two days for both sides to get the case before the Ford will take the state. Perley H. Boone, city editor of the Tribune, was on the stand for cross-examination. William Lucking, Mr. Ford's secretary, was the witness who originated the suit. The case began with a routine matter of news, sought to get from him which would support that there was a plot of the Tribune office to a trouble.

Sample of Cross-Examination.
This is a bit of the question:
Q—This whole subject from the employers in what they were going to guardmen, was a matter directed to be commenced the managing editor, noon, July 19, 1916, was not a fact.
Q—Isn't that a fact?
A—No, sir.
Q—You don't mean that you, acting city editor, in and direct a campaign towards the employees to know what they do for their employer, do you? A—There is no such thing as gathering of news.

Nothing but news.
Q—Well, that is not news? A—Yes, sir, it is news.
Q—You would not have any other employers were going to pay salaries out you first knew that was going to do that, was it?
A—No, sir.
Mr. Boone told of a secret employer and show other employers were going to pay salaries out you first knew that was going to do that, was it?
A—No, sir.
Mr. Boone told of a secret employer and show other employers were going to pay salaries out you first knew that was going to do that, was it?
A—No, sir.

Why Ford Attitude?
Q—Why did you tell the afternoon of June 20 be a good thing for him Ford Motor company was going to do? A—It was a good piece of newspaper work.
Q—Why a good piece of work?
A—Because it was a big employer of labor come out and said he take care of his employees that would have sided with him.
Q—You knew the Tribune intervention in Mexico, did you?
A—They were advocating intervention.
Q—Redirection examination land?
Q—In instructing Mr. Detroit, were you influenced by the editorial of Tribune, whatever it may be?
A—None whatever.

FORD STORY USED FOR NEWS VALUE, CITY EDITOR SAYS

'Tribune' Executive Tells Origin of Item That Led to Editorial.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
 Mount Clemens, Mich., June 26.—(Special.)—The Ford-Tribune trial was adjourned today until next Monday in order to give Attorney Elliott O. Stevenson a chance to recover from a sprained ankle. He was thrown from an automobile two days ago. Attorneys for both sides joined in the request. The case began May 13 and still has several weeks to run. Henry Ford will take the stand soon.

Forney H. Boone, city editor of THE TRIBUNE, was on the stand this morning for cross-examination by Attorney William Lucking. Mr. Boone testified that the news article which started the suit was originated and printed as a routine matter of news. Mr. Lucking sought to get from him something which would support his contention that there was a plot of some kind in this Tribune office to get Mr. Ford in trouble.

Sample of Cross-Examination.
 This is a bit of the cross-examination:
 Q—This whole subject, finding out from the employers in Chicago just what they were going to do for their guardsmen, was a matter that was discussed to be commenced by Mr. Beck, the managing editor, Monday afternoon, July 19, 1916, was it not? A—No, sir.

Q—Isn't that a fact? A—No, sir, it is not a fact.

Q—You don't mean to say, do you, that you, acting city editor, would start in and direct a campaign by THE TRIBUNE towards the employers, demanding to know what they were going to do for their employees, unless some one over you on THE TRIBUNE told you to do it, do you? A—There are no strings tied to the city editor concerning the gathering of news.

Nothing but News.
 Q—Well, that is not an ordinary news item? A—Yes, sir, it is nothing but news.

Q—You would not have started asking any other employers whether they were going to pay salaries or not without you first knew that THE TRIBUNE was going to do that, would you? A—I did not.

Mr. Boone told of a series of stories on the subject and showed that many other employers were queried, just as Mr. Ford's company was queried. When pressed for details he referred to the files. He said he did not know of any large employer of labor in Chicago who refused to take care of his men at that time. Various editions of THE TRIBUNE were consulted. Mr. Lucking admitted that he had never heard that there were mail and street and final editions.

Why Ford Attitude Was Sought.
 Q—Why did you tell Mr. Avery, on the afternoon of June 20, that it would be a good thing for him to query the Ford Motor company about what they were going to do? A—Because it was a good piece of newspaper work.

Q—Why a good piece of newspaper work? A—Because it was our business to get the news. Mr. Ford was a big employer of labor and if he had come out and said he was going to take care of his employees properly, that would have aided recruiting.

Q—You knew THE TRIBUNE was for intervention in Mexico, didn't you? A—They were advocating some sort of intervention.

Refused examination by Mr. Kirkland.
 Q—In instructing Mr. Avery to wire Detroit, were you influenced in any way by the editorial policy of THE TRIBUNE, whatever it may have been? A—None whatever.

Patriotic Fund Official Talks.
 Mr. A. Erwin, Detroit lawyer, who was sergeant major in the 31st regiment at the Detroit armory in 1916 and secretary of the patriotic fund which took care of the families of soldiers, told of a conversation he had in June 1916, with Frank L. Klingensmith, secretary of the Ford company, concerning the attitude of the company toward taking care of the families of their own men called to service.

Several of the wives of the Ford men had been to see me," he said, "and I called the Ford company just as I called several other companies. Mr. Klingensmith simply told me that he did not know what the company would do."

This was in June. Early in July another Ford official, E. F. Clemett, came to Erwin's office to get a list of employees in the guard. Clemett also said, according to Mr. Erwin, that he did not know what the company would do toward helping the families. Mr. Erwin told of helping thirty-four families during that time, giving them money out of his own pocket. He was later reimbursed by the league. Six of the families he helped were Ford company families.

Mr. Erwin's story was also an impeachment of part of the testimony of James H. Connors, lieutenant in a field artillery company that was recruiting in Detroit at that time. Connors said he called Klingensmith during this week and was informed the Ford company would care for their men and families. He said he announced this to his men at drill in the armory. Mr. Erwin said that Connors' battery was not drilling in the armory that week.

Detroit Editor on the Stand.
 John H. Donnewind, assistant managing editor of the Detroit Free Press, was recalled for a deferred cross-examination. He told of having talked to Klingensmith during this week in June. Klingensmith told him, he said, that he did not see why the Ford company should pay the men or care for their families. Donnewind said he told his city editor at that time, Herbert C. Walker, of the interview. It was written but not printed. Walker, who is now acting managing editor of the Detroit Times, took the stand and confirmed this part of Donnewind's story. He was not cross-examined.

When the case starts next week it is expected that Clifford Raymond, editorial writer for THE TRIBUNE, who wrote the editorial which started the suit, will take the stand.

LOWDEN WARNS OF "RED" PERIL MENACING U. S.

Illinois Governor Calls on Lawyers of Iowa to Combat Evil.

Davenport, Ia., June 26.—Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois today at the Victory meeting of the Iowa State Bar association warned lawyers in attendance of the menace of bolshevism and kindred beliefs.

He declared that no body of men equally with the lawyers of the nation can understand the significance of this new warfare that is being waged against the constitution.

No Aid to Progress.
 "Do you think," the governor asked, "that if the doctrines which are being imported to America from Russia had been in vogue a half century ago this transformation would have taken place? Would this great people have arisen and with such steady progress have marched to such heights of prosperity and happiness if it had not been for the guarantee of the constitution under our form of government? What would have been the incentive a half century ago to the pioneer to endure the summer's heat and the winter's hardships unless he could know in his heart that the land he was wrestling from the wilderness should be his own and his children's forever?"

Lawyers Have a Duty.
 "There is a very heavy duty resting upon the members of your profession, because by education, by your practice, by your daily contact with the people, you are in a position to tell them the truth."

"There can be no danger if we will but educate our people to what these new, strange doctrines mean, but we cannot go on in supine indifference forever without enough of our people becoming infected with these hideous doctrines to imperil our future."

Whole World in Ferment.
 "The whole world is in a ferment. It comes from time to time. We had that ferment after the French revolution, again in 1848, and now the whole world is in a state of unrest."

"During the next few years we are to determine in America, as I believe, largely the future, not of our own nation alone, but the future of the world."

"If we during that fateful time shall cherish these principles which were taught in the little country school in Iowa when I was a boy, and which I hope are still being taught, if we are going to stand by the same doctrines when the 4th of July comes that we did in those days—if we are going to cherish the things that are everlastingly true in our government, we shall survive this perilous time, we shall unfold a future of happiness for our own people and for all the world."

RAINBOW GOWNS MARK OPENING OF HORSE SHOW

Bright Hues and Gayety Everywhere at South Shore Event.

Attractive sports and summer costumes of the women in the boxes attracted nearly as much attention as did the spirited horses and their riders and drivers yesterday at the opening of the tenth annual horse show at the South Shore Country club.

Not for some years have the occupants of the boxes looked so joyous and gay.

Bright Hues Everywhere.
Everywhere bright colors predominated and nearly every woman around the ring was gowned in a frock or suit of brilliant hue.

The green and white boxes were decorated with gay bunting and flags and made attractive settings for the smartly gowned occupants.

The weather was perfect horse show weather and there was nary a cloud to dim the brilliance of the occasion.

Following the show there were more than 300 dinner parties in the clubhouse.

Society Crowds Boxes.
Among those in the boxes were:

PHONE STRIKES HIT ST. LOUIS; AFFECT ALTON

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—Between 4,500 and 5,000 telephone operators and linemen, it is estimated, affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and employed in St. Louis, East St. Louis, Granite City and Alton, struck at noon today. Secretly Charles F. Ford of the Electrical Workers' union said the strike was called because the companies in St. Louis refused to observe the Burleson order.

Girl Operators Quit Phones.

St. Louis, Mo., June 26.—Girl telephone operators and electrical workers employed by the Southwestern Bell and Kinloch Telephone companies walked out here at noon today. Service of the Kinloch company was suspended. Officials of the Bell company said only eighty-five of the 800 operators regularly on duty at noon left here at noon today.

Burleson Disapproves Strike.

Washington, D. C., June 26.—Postmaster General Burleson today told a committee of the American Federation of Labor that he would not direct the telegraph companies to reemploy persons who went on strike. He said he considered the strike in violation of the rules of the government's wire control board and the war labor board.

TWO WARDS PLAN PATRIOT PAGEANT ON JULY FOURTH

"America" is the role Leonora Lizzo will play July 4 when girls of the Twenty-first and Twenty-second wards give the pageant "Stand By" on the beach near Lake Shore playground.

The pageant presents Amelia Joworsky as "Patriotism" and Edith Lukers as "Girlhood." In response to "America" call "Patriotism" is depicted, summoning "Girlhood" to the achievements of the women of America.

The spectacle is planned as a feature for the community celebration of the two wards. The girls are being directed by Miss Dorothy Meadows of the War Camp Community Service.

Reemployment of the strikers, he said, rested with the companies, and he would take no steps to bring about such employment.

LOWDEN TO PASS UPON HUNDREDS OF MEASURES

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—[Special.] Gov. Lowden will return to Springfield tomorrow night. We will have more than 100 bills prepared for final action when he opens business at the capitol early Saturday morning.

Probably forty bills will be taken up during the day on which hearings will be held lasting quite likely far into Saturday night. The final action that the governor will take upon all pending bills will be determined in time to be announced to the federal assembly when it convenes Monday for the final session.

The final survey of all of the Chicago bond bills and other bills affecting Chicago directly was completed this afternoon by legal experts who are held responsible for the technique of the city's legislation.

Attorney General Brundage's office has prepared opinions on more than 300 bills which will be presented to-morrow night to Gov. Lowden.

ONLY 5 POINTS OF SHORE PARK PLAN UNSETTLED

Illinois Central and Aldermen Agree on Many Issues.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

The lake front development has reached the point at which the city and the Illinois Central railroad are agreed in "trading."

Charles H. Markham, for the road and the council committee on railway terminals reached an agreement on the ordinance yesterday afternoon that there only these questions remained:

1—Shall the Kensington and Eastern be given a perpetual franchise?

2—Shall the tracks of the Illinois Central South Chicago branch be elevated?

3—Who shall pay the cost of the proposed, Twelfth street subway?

4—Shall the city prescribe the exterior material of the new station?

Values Not Determined.

Complied with the last of these questions is that of the value to be placed upon the city's rights in streets and upon north of Randolph street. The council committee on compensation will be asked to decide this, if possible, by next Tuesday, when negotiations will be resumed.

Representatives of the south park commission also attended the session. They agreed that the inner lake shore park shall be completed in seven years and the outer strip in ten years. This means that the south park commission will finish their part of the lake front development, barring illness, in ten years.

Had in Negotiations.

The committee and the railroad officials came to a definite halt in their negotiations. To a notice it might appear they reached a deadlock.

"I don't think this ordinance can be passed unless the South Chicago tracks are elevated," said Ald. Greenway. "I think that we had better defer this subject until tomorrow."

"Why wait?" asked Mr. Markham. "I can give you my position in a minute. I am not ready to advise the directors of the road to elevate the tracks. I do not think they will accept the ordinance with such a requirement."

"Why?" asked Ald. Olson. "It will cost about $4,000,000. This ordinance otherwise obligates us to spend $20,000,000 in the next seven years, and $50,000,000 in fifteen years. I am much afraid that the directors will not accept that requirement."

"I have had to do with this sort of negotiations for twenty-five years," commented Attorney Walter L. Fisher. "I haven't much use for the corporation ultimatum. I think it is best to deal fairly and liberally with the corporation. Let the aldermen do what they think is right. Then let the company take it or leave it."

Opposes Limiting Use.

Mr. Markham was equally emphatic against limiting the use of the property north of Randolph street to "railroad purposes."

"What if we wanted to erect a hand-saw mill?" asked Markham. "That is all right, if the hotel would be a railroad use under your charter," replied Fisher.

For an hour the conferees discussed whether the city shall prescribe the material to be used in the new station or a provision in the ordinance requiring the material and design to be acceptable to the south park commission, the trustees of the Fleet museum, the municipal art commission, the Chicago plan commission, or like organization.

Several of the aldermen insisted upon a definite provision being placed in the ordinance. The subject was finally referred to the Chicago plan commission to get language acceptable to the board. The station prospectus says the front will be of marble.

WANTS ENCYCLOPEDIA AGENT.

Markham advised a man giving the name of Henry, who he was soliciting subscription to the encyclopedia supposedly issued by the publisher, was given a letter by J. W. Markham, assistant national secretary of the encyclopedia. The encyclopedia does not publish an encyclopedia, states Mr. Markham. He said the man be arrested.

Breaking in a pair of new shoes.

It is a torture for lots of people who have tender feet. They dread it and keep putting off buying new shoes. But here's a good way to overcome the trouble.

Have your old shoes put in shape and they switch off between the old ones and the new ones until the new ones are comfortable as the old. You can do it if you find the right repair shop.

Try ours. We'll surprise you with the kind of work we do. That's why we're doing such a big repair business. Just send the old shoes in parcel post; we'll fix 'em up and re-deliver promptly, parcel post, prepaid. Money back if not satisfied. Phone Harrison 314.

"TEXAS STEER" STORMS COURT ON I. W. W. BOND

"City Smoke Clouds Justice," Says Col. Williams.

The legal battle of the state of Texas versus the United States went on brisk round to no decision, with Federal Judge Alschuler officiating in his chambers at the government building yesterday, spectators excluded. The participants, Col. T. B. Williams of McKinney, Tex., and Thomas J. O'Brien, representing the office of the district attorney, emerged from separate doors, each claiming a knockout.

"The judge, sir, is damned fair, but Mr. O'Brien is arbitrary as hell," was the colonel's comment as he shifted his comb-over, lighted a cigar, and posed for a photograph.

Texas Boom Talk First.

"I came to Chicago on a mission of mercy, sir, on behalf of the broken-hearted wife of a sick man who by circumstance is among the ninety-three I. W. W. leaders in prison at Leavenworth, but not of them."

"I have a bond for this man, Attorney Stanley Clark of Dallas, signed by two of my friends, who are worth a quarter of a million dollars, sir. I have affidavits signed by the clerk, assessor, and engineer of Collin county, which made $12,000,000 in wheat, cotton, and corn last year. We have 150 miles of hard road, sir, and the second richest town per capita in the United States. An interurban leaves every—"

"O, yes, about this bond, Mr. O'Brien is not satisfied with the description of this property—the best section in Texas. Now, what damned difference does it make whether the line of my friend H. C. Ratcliff's 734 acres runs southwest or northeast?"

"To breathe God's Air."

"I'm going back to my little acre and a half at McKinney tonight, where I can breathe God's air. Perhaps if the sky was screened by smoke down there I would have the same views as Mr. O'Brien."

"After hearing Mr. Williams the court returned the bonds to me for examination," said O'Brien. "We are ordered to investigate all bonds submitted. Clark was sentenced to serve ten years and his bond was set at $10,000."

START MOVE TO OUST MORTENSON, SCHOOL CHIEFS

Quo warranto proceedings, aimed at the present board of education of eleven members and Superintendent Peter A. Mortenson, were instituted in the Circuit court yesterday through State's Attorney Hoynes. The action is taken in behalf of the Loeb board of twenty-one members and Charles E. Chadsey, elected superintendent and later deposed on the selection of Mr. Mortenson by the "solid six" board.

In the petitions filed by Attorney Argue Roy Shannon, counsel for Jacob M. Loeb and Mr. Chadsey, after obtaining the signature of State's Attorney Hoynes, it is declared the present board has never qualified and all of its actions since assuming office have been unlawful. For this reason, it is alleged, the election of Mr. Mortenson was without authority and Mr. Chadsey still is entitled to the office.

CARTOONIST OF A. E. F. PAPER BACK IN CITY

Tells How "Stars and Stripes" Kept Army Morale High.

Cyrus LeRoy Baldridge, official cartoonist of the Stars and Stripes, affectionately known as "Roy," dashed through town yesterday on his way to the city. He had just bid farewell to his mother before he came to Chicago and Japan. A prominent member of the class of 1911 of the University of Chicago, he has been adopted by Chicago, although his home is in Southern California. The Stars and Stripes, the official paper of the A. E. F., is no more, but during the year and four months of its existence it was one of the greatest factors in the morale of the American army, according to Gen. Pershing.

Tribune Man Editor. "The most important thing about the Stars and Stripes," said Mr. Baldridge, "is that it was edited and written for and by enlisted men. All of the editorial staff went into the paper with the same rank which they had previously had in the army and they accepted no promotions. The officer in charge was Mark Watson of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

"The profits of the Stars and Stripes were nearly $2,000,000 and it was decided that they should go to the support of French war orphans. The paper had conducted a campaign and had succeeded in having adopted by individuals and military units more than 2,000 war orphans. The judge advocate general of the army ruled that it was illegal to give away the money and confiscated it for the American government. Through Secretary Baker, after a protest from the staff of the Stars and Stripes, a bill has been introduced into congress to make it possible to give the money to the orphans.

As Regular as Food. "The paper was a commonplace product. After it left the hands of the editorial men it went to doughboys detailed to linotype machines, then to the hands of French stereotypes, and finally into the hands of English pressmen, and was printed on paper borrowed from the French government by Pershing.

"It was distributed from railroads by doughboy field agents in trucks to the various divisions."

SUES AL JOLSON, ASKING DIVORCE

Oakland, Cal., June 26.—[Special.]—Alleging that success turned Al Jolson's fancy to "wine, race horses and women," Mrs. Henrietta Jolson today filed a suit for divorce. She says Jolson sent her to California from New York last March, declaring "he loved her better 3,400 miles away."

"He tells me I'm only a small town kid, anyway," she said.

Mrs. Jolson asks $2,000 a month alimony, declaring the comedian's income exceeds $5,000 a week.

At Los Angeles. New York, June 26.—News of his wife's divorce suit today failed to jar Al Jolson from his usual good humor.

"Indeed," he said, "it's a surprise to me. Why, I intended leaving in a day or so to spend the summer in California with my wife."

As to the "wine, race horses," etc., Jolson denied he drank, but said he was fond of race horses.

said to have received Aime's master letter, denied that he knew the girl. Her identity is as yet unestab-lished. Still—it was some dreamy letter.

The tender note was introduced into the divorce proceeding before Judge Hannan of Mrs. Rose Hinn against her husband yesterday.

"I found that letter and it was addressed to him," said Mrs. Hinn yesterday in answer to Attorney Cameron's question. "Aime is of the chorus and he knows her."

"Who Is Lou?"

But late yesterday afternoon Dr.
Hinn mounted the testimonial booth and denied knowing this chorus girl.
"I've been around quite a bit, but she was never with me," he said.

"Who Is Lou? She was of a chorus, wasn't she?" asked Attorney Lawrence.

"Ah, no. I don't know her. I mean
I don't know her last name."

"But you rented an apartment and lived with her for two months didn't you?" the attorney asked.

"Well—I don't know her last name."

And then the letter.

Then the attorney introduced Aime's dreamy letter.

It reads:

"I had a dream of you last night. I really thought I saw you.
You almost talked to me. It was so real I started to put my arms around you in my dream and when I awoke I found it was only a dream."

Dr. Hinn emphatically asserted that he did not believe in the subconscious mind.

The hearing will be continued today, when Mrs. Hinn will make a spectacle fight for the custody of her three-year old son, Billie.

CHICAGOAN CHOSEN
SUPERIOR GENERAL
OF PAULIST ORDER

Announcement was made yesterday at the Paulist Fathers' house of the election of the Rev. Thomas

Francis Burke, C.
S. P., head of the Paulist Fathers of Chicago and pastor of St. Mary's church, Ninth street and South Wabash avenue, as superior general of the order of the Paulist Fathers.

This means Father Burke will go to New York to live and a new head will be appointed to Chicago.

Election of superior general is for three years, with the possibility of one re-election for three years. It was said the Very Rev. P. J. O'Callaghan of Washington, D. C., formerly occupying the same position in Chicago as Father Burke has held for the last four years, was Father Burke's closest rival for the honor of election as superior general.

Father Burke was born in Chicago in 1871 and studied for seven years at St. Xavier academy and college. His birthday will be easy to remember, for it was Nov. 11, armistice day.

Father Burke's brother, John Joseph Burke, is editor of the Catholic World,
New York. Another brother, William Augustine, is supervisor of immigration.
One sister, Anna, is in the Sisters of Mercy convent.

Points Out Advantages.

In explaining the purpose of the trip Charles M. MacFarlane, first vice-president of Morris & Co., said:

"The advantages of this mode of sending shipments to Europe are great, as it eliminates rail shipment to New York. It relieves the congestion at the seaboard and does away with all the reloading, demurrage, and other charges usually incident to shipments to the seaboard.

Shippers from points west of Chicago, on the Missouri river and the other points in that direction are all interested in the development of this branch of the service because it means their own commodities can be handled to much greater advantage through Chicago than by having them shipped to New York."

Two other steamers built at Duluth for the shipping board are to be sent to Chicago for cargoes in the near future and will follow the Lake Granby to European ports. The Chicago crew and a lake pilot will take the Lake Granby as far as Montreal, where a sea captain will board the steamer for the trip across the Atlantic.

Prepare New Rates.

The shipping board is preparing freight rates that will hereafter govern shipments made directly from Chicago for export. Arrangements are being made to obtain return cargoes for the steamers, so they can make regular trips from Chicago.

F. M. Kiley, Chicago representative of the Emergency Fleet corporation, and nine officials of Morris & Co. were carried from the dock to the Rush street bridge on the Lake Granby as the boat started on its Liverpool trip.

Of the Duluth built boats the Lake Grede is scheduled to sail June 3 and the Chantier July 2. Arrangements are under way to start a boat to Hamburg, Germany, as soon as peace negotiations are completed.

Private Detective Is Killed
While Cleaning Revolver

While cleaning his revolver in preparation for an inspection last night, William C. Condon, 27, a decurred at the home of his sister, 2822

West Monroe street.

Wife Prefers $15 Cash to Gambling Chance on It

The uncertain smiles of the Goddess of Chance were introduced into the Court of Domestic Relations yesterday.
William C. Robbins, 6557 Cottage Grove avenue, by his own admission a gambler, wished his wife to take a "gambling chance" with him on getting the weekly allowances Judge Sheridan E. Fry ordered him to pay her.
Mrs. Robbins was skeptical, so was Judge Fry, and he ordered Robbins to pay his wife $15 every week.

Drainage Board
ORDERS SURVEY
WITHOUT A ROW

Trustees of the sanitary district of Chicago in the first peaceful meeting of weeks yesterday ordered a survey made of the work done and the money spent by the board.

Trustees Clark introduced a resolution calling for the survey and it passed by a vote of 7 to 1. President Sergeon alone voting in the negative.

The purpose of the report is to show the taxpayers the progress made by the district since it was organized," said Trustee Clark.

Trustee Clark said he believed there was a conspiracy to destroy the board and it would be thwarted by this report.

Approval of the appropriation of $200,000 as the sanitary district's share in constructing the new single leaf basculin bridge over the river at Twelfth street was also made by the trustees.

It was agreed to advertise for bids for the two old dock girders spans over Stony creek.

FOR LIVERPOOLLake Granby's Departure Marks City's Debut
as World Port.

Chicago was placed on the map yesterday as a world port and a center for the direct shipment of exports from the middle west. The Lake Granby, a steamer built in Chicago by the United States shipping board, manned by a Chicago crew, and loaded with Chicago products, sailed in the afternoon direct for Liverpool, the first Chicago vessel to make the trip.

Luncheon was served on the steamer to a party of business men, a bottle of champagne was broken over the bow by H. H. Merrick, president of the Association of Commerce, and then the lines were cast off. The start was made in the south branch of the river at Robey street.

The Lake Granby is loaded with products from Morris & Co., Swift & Co., and Wilson & Co.

SENATE VOTES
NAVY $644,000,000;
BOOSTS AIR FUND

Washington, D. C., June 26.—The naval appropriation bill passed the senate today virtually as reported by the senate committee, and now goes to conference. It carries approximately $644,000,000, an increase of more than $44,000,000 over the house total.

Without debate the senate approved a committee amendment increasing the fund for aviation from $15,000,000 to

Among other important committee additions is $10,000,000 for federal acquisition of the Cape Cod canal.

TOUGH AS A RHINO

BIT O' LUCK GIVES BROWNS 13 INNING WIN OVER SOX, 3 TO 2

CHANCE TO COP LOST BY HOSE IN FINAL ROUND

Collins' Rap, Good for a Score, Makes Putout by Hitting Runner.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

St. Louis, Mo., June 26.—[Special.]—White Sox and Browns fought for thirteen innings in the first battle of their series of four today, when young Dick Kerr looked up in a creaking pitching duel with Allan Sothern. The Browns pushed over the winning run in the last half of the thirteenth, after a serious break had deprived the Sox of one or more runs in the first half of the same round. The final count was 3 to 2.

Considering the fact the locals poked fifteen hits during the contest while the Sox gathered only eight, it looks as if St. Louis deserved to win. However, Kerr's steady pitching in eight places and the splendid defense by his mates kept the Sox in the fight until supper time.

Nip and Tuck all the way.

The Browns earned a run in the fourth and the Sox earned one in the fifth, tying the count. In the sixth the Browns earned another, and in the eighth the Sox tied it because of tremendous batting by Eddie Collins and Joe Jackson. Then the duel continued until the thirteenth.

Gleason's men should have scored in their half of the luckless inning. Kerrberg led off with a safe blow to center and advanced on Schalk's out. Kerr died on a fly ball, but Liebold was hit by a pitched ball and went to first. This brought up Eddie Collins, who drove in the winning run. Liebold got in the way of the ball. It hit him on the feet and he was out, retiring the side.

Sisler's Smart Work Wins.

This mistake possibly took a bit of the fight out of the Sox, but it was a clever bit of batting by George Sisler that really opened the way for the Browns' victory. Sisler hit a single and the Sox infielders set themselves for a bunt from Sisler. Buck Weaver was away up the line to grab the ball and make a force play at second. Sisler crossed him by poking a hot grounder right down the third base line. Buck was too close to head it off and it went for single to left.

Hammer Kerr at Start.

In the first six innings of the game the Browns were rough with Kerr, making eleven of their blows in that time. In the fourth, with two on base, Sothern's sacrifice and Sisler's single got a run. In the sixth a severe Sisler hit, Gerber's sacrifice, and Sothern's single got another. Jack's hit, Gerber's sacrifice, and Felsch's hit gave the Sox one in the fifth and triples by E. Collins and Jackson produced the other in the ninth.

GUN PLANT ASKS $5,500,000 IN CONTRACT ROW

U. S. Action Is Foreseen
if $118,000 Item Is Included.

The claim of the Standard Steel Car company of Hammond, amounting to between $5,500,000 and $6,000,000, has been filed with the army claims board at 135 East Superior street, it became known last night.

E. A. Russell, chief of ordinance for the central department, declared it was under the scrutiny of government accountants. He refused to divulge details of the claim.

If an item of $118,000 for electrical work done on the car plant by the Standard Electric Engineering Company of Hammond is included in the bill to the war department, as was the acknowledged intention of the chairman of the board, prosecution may be started under the charge of making false claim.

More Details Bared.

Further details of the $40,000,000 contract for carriage of the car company were furnished by the Standard Electric Engineering Company of Hammond, which is included in the bill to the war department, as was the acknowledged intention of the chairman of the board, prosecution may be started under the charge of making false claim.

The contract was given the company in November, 1917. Work was begun at once remodeling the plant to make 55 howitzer gun carriages, something never before attempted in this country.

Over 4,000 changes were made in the drawings; in fact, changes were being made when production was discontinued in June, 1919. The company was not to blame for the changes which caused delay in the manufacture.

Notwithstanding these delays, it actually reached a production of 1,500 of thirty-two carriages in five and one-half days (eight hours basis), with less than 1,500 employees.

Tells of Subcontract.

Just a word in regard to the subcontract of the Standard Electric Engineering company. This read, "Labor and material required for all 440 volt alternating current electric work on car plus 20 per cent overhead on the two items and 10 per cent profit on total." Overhead was to include all engineering work. It was understood the total cost would be between $40,000 and $50,000.

Parke had charge of the inspection of this work as it progressed.

The cost was subject to audit by the cost accounting branch. Certain vouchers were audited and summaries passed for payment amounting to $70,000.

Before we had time to audit other vouchers submitted to our department we gave an advance of $50,743 on account of the said vouchers.

I assigned E. F. Edmondson and W. Morrison, United States accountants, to my office, to audit these vouchers, as well as the books of the Standard Electric Engineering company.

This was on or about July 16, 1918. After they had been on this work a few days Mr. Edmondson called my attention to checks aggregating several thousand dollars drawn payable to the bank.

Proceeds Can't Be Traced.

"The proceeds from these checks would not be traced and when the only and employees of the Standard Electric Engineering company were questioned the answers given were not satisfactory. I then started to trace rumors circulated through Hammond and the information contained in certain affidavits already published was obtained.

"After getting this information and which has not been published, I refused to allow the fixed overhead of 20 per cent, added in the subcontract, to stand.

"As the matter now stands the car company has paid the subcontractor $118,000. It has received reimbursement for only $70,000. The balance has been held up notwithstanding the fact it was properly approved by the production officers."

Man Ends Life by Gas, Taking Case to Higher Court.

"Sylvester Jesaitis," dropped the ball in the Court of Domestic Relations. Two policemen conferred in whispers with Assistant State's Attorney Michael Rosin.

"He is not here, your honor," said Rosin to the judge.

"Why isn't he here?" asked Judge Sheridan E. Fry. "Find out."

Accused by Girl, 9.

Jesaitis, 76, a carpenter, was charged with molesting Mary Jagodzinski, 9, whose parents live on the upper floor of his house at 1821 West Forty-fifth street.

He was arrested and the child was taken to St. Mary's hospital. The case was continued yesterday until July 15, when the girl's parents told the judge she was unable to appear.

In a short while the policemen came back into the courtroom and again conferred with Rosin, who arose.

"Your honor," he said, "I move the case be stricken from the records. Jesaitis committed suicide this afternoon."

Case Is Stricken Out.

There was a gasp in the courtroom. "It is so ordered," said the judge finally. "He has taken his case to a higher court."

Jesaitis was found on the floor of his bedroom when his wife returned home. Gas was flowing from an open burner.

J. M. Sheehan Slated as Chicago Bar President

Attorney James M. Sheehan probably will be chosen president of the Chicago Bar association at the election to be held in the near future. His name was proposed by the mapmakers of the association yesterday at the annual banquet at the Midway club. He will succeed Amos C. Miller, outgoing executive.

Eleven Matys, 5, of 4444 South Wood street, was hurt seriously last evening when she was struck by an automobile and driven by Frank Balceus, 1744 South Hermitage avenue, as she attempted to cross West Forty-seventh street. Dr. Felix J. Lownik, 1800 West Forty-seventh street, said she had suffered a skull fracture and was hurt internally. Balceus and Peter Woychick, of the same address, were booked by the New City police station for assault with a deadly weapon.

HER 'BLIMP' NOSE, REBUILT AT $50, STIRS ONLY WOE

"Give Me One Like Ma's or My Old One Back," Wails Girl.

Nature, in fabricating the physiognomic architecture, frequently moves in mysterious ways her wonders to perform, particularly as concerns that dominant and central bas-relief, commonly called the nose.

This well known organ, in addition to its utilitarian and polychromatic aspects, may be a thing of beauty and a joy forever to your esthetic connoisseur and artist, or, as Miss Tracy Sambrowske had often observed in consultation with her mirror, it may be a veritable fardel of woe, an anatomical old man of the sea.

Her Bridge of Sighs.

She would not have demurred at a snub nose, or, say, a straight front effect, or even the promontory type affected by the oval-faced ladies of Raphael, but a nose with a blimp bump like unto the hook of Bo-Peep's staff—well, her olfactory melancholy was so chronic one might well have termed the nose her bridge of sighs.

"I want it remodeled," said Miss Sambrowske to E. L. Hunkeler, beauty specialist in the office of Dr. Herbert F. Lampkin, 4 West Randolph street. The specialist appraised it with practiced eye and:

So he called in Dr. Lampkin and they rebuilt Miss Sambrowske's nose along the 1919 symmetrical, sinuous, synchronizing lines, neatly beveling the abrupt convexities. Filled with joy, she hastened to her home at 1343 Bauwans street to surprise her mother, Mrs. Teresa Sambrowske.

Wants It Like Mamma's.

She came back crying the next day. "They don't like it—I want it changed," she told Mrs. Lampkin, who acts as office assistant. "Look, (producing a picture) I want it like mamma's. It isn't a bit like hers."

"Well, you didn't tell me you wanted one like hers. We gave you a good nose."

"I want it like mamma's or I want it like it used to be."

"Well, if we make it like it used to be, that will be another operation."

"Then I want my money back."

However, as the operation had been termed successful, the specialists declined to refund the money—$50. So yesterday Miss Sambrowske had Dr. Lampkin arrested. Mr. Hunkeler is in Detroit. The case will be heard before Judge John R. Newcomer today.

3 SCORE AND TEN DINE WOOD AND
13 MORE TONIGHT

Ten colonels, two brigadiers, and a pair of major generals should give any banquet ample military éclat, what? But that's the guest lineup tonight, when the Three-Score-and-Ten club gives a dinner in honor of that array of officers in the Ellipse room of the Congress hotel.

"We have delayed the annual dinner so the colonels and brigadiers and major generals might be with us," explained President Joseph Welsenbach.

Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood and Brig. Gen. Harry D. Todd Jr. are to speak. The list of guests includes Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, Maj. Gen. George Bell Jr., Brig. Gen. Harry D. Todd Jr., Brig. Gen. Frank S. Dickson, Col. Henry A. Baker, Col. C. B. Baker, Col. John V. Clinch, Col. Abel Davis, Col. Franklin Denison, Col. Milton J. Foreman, Col. John J. Garrity, Col. Robert M. McCormick, Col. Henry J. Reilly, Col. Joseph B. Sanborn.

Two lecture engagements at the University of Chicago have suffered cancellation by the authorities of the university. Padraic Colum, Irish poet and playwright, will not speak on poetry on June 30, as previously announced. Nor will Wilfred Humphries, recently returned Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. war worker in Russia.

Friends of the Irish poet said yesterday the lecturer had been barred because of his sympathy with the Sinn Fein movement in Ireland. Mrs. Mary F. McWhorter, 5524 Indiana avenue, said Mrs. Colum, the poet's wife, who arrived in the city ahead of her husband, was notified by President Judson Wednesday of the cancellation of the lecture. Mr. Colum is in Colorado.

ICE TICKET ISSUE HITS RECORD, BUT—WHERE DO YOU STAND IN IT?

TRIBUNE free ice tickets, each supplying one week's hot weather comfort for one family, have been apportioned to 1,538 families since June 19.

Announcement of the record breaking distribution was made yesterday by Edwin C. Jones, financial secretary of the United Charities, whose organization is handling THE TRIBUNE distribution.

Only 1,763 free ice tickets were distributed last summer.

Sixty welfare agencies are handling the tickets this year. The juvenile court supplied 400 families yesterday. Ice is expensive. The fund is dwindling.

WHISKY AT 60 CENTS A GALLON,
PLUS $6.40 TAX

And Even at That Price It's Drug on Market.

Even the "wets" have deserted poor old John Barleycorn.

With only three more days left in which sales can be made safely, whisky is almost as plentiful and as cheap as water in Chicago. Setting aside the tax, it is now selling as low as 60 cents a gallon, and unless there is a change in conditions its price may go even lower.

One hundred and fifty thousand gallons of whisky are lying in government warehouses in the city. It can't be sold or given away after July 1, unless the unexpected happens, as the problem of what is to become of it is worrying government officials.

Warehouses Are Filled.

Hundreds of thousands of gallons are lying in other warehouses. The government tax has been paid on this whisky, much of which was bought for speculation, but no one seems willing to buy it.

The average price for a gallon of whisky now asked is $7 or $8. This price includes the tax of $6.40 a gallon, leaving the actual value of the whisky at from 60 cents to $1.60 a gallon.

Arrange Law Enforcement.

Arrangements for the enforcement of the "wartime" prohibition law were made yesterday at a conference between Julius F. Smietanka, collector of internal revenue for the Chicago district, and Chief Garrity.

Here is Garrity's description of what will be done to enforce the law:

"Captains will be told that they will be held for the enforcement of the liquor laws in their districts. There will be enough dry investigators to keep me pretty well informed as to how well the saloons and wine players are obeying the law and many complaints from any particular district will mean rough going for the captain in charge."

"There is just one thing more. Midnight on June 30 means the closing of all saloons. The 1 o'clock closing law isn't an alibi."

"Pretty Smooth" to my notion, means that you're pretty smooth if, right off the reel, you're able to tell what the picture's all about. It's a crook picture—that's easy to discover, for it starts right out with a diamond necklace and a French maid and a handsome safe breaker. From then on it moves in a mysterious way its wonders to perform with every body working fast; lots of action; considerable punch and you sitting in your little seat trying to brush cobwebs from your brain and discover what time they're trying to get at anyway. Being bright, you know by the time the reels have unrolled that it is the tale of two engaging crooks who decide to turn straight, and by hook and by "crook" do so. The fair Priscilla is one and the good looking Mr. McDonald is the other. The acting in "Pretty Smooth" is all good. The photography is splendid. And as a guessing contest it is a great production.

Protestant Women Meet.

Plans for the new wing of the Protestant Women's home at 6232 Yale avenue, to cost more than $12,000, were discussed at the closing 1918-1919 luncheon of the Protestant Women's National association in the Auditorium hotel yesterday afternoon. "This addition," said Mrs. Edwin S. Brough, president of the association, "will enable us to care for about eighty-five dependent boys and girls who are sent to us from the juvenile court. We now shelter thirty-nine of them."

REAL LOVE STORIES

Her Secret.

There is a hospital building in a western town; it is no longer new, and the secret of how it came to be is no longer discussed after all these years, though it was more than a nine weeks' wonder the winter the corner stone was laid.

Folks thought the gratitude of a lonely old Scotch miser to his physician had led to the bequest of all his property, and I am afraid Dr. Jeffery thought so, too. He is dead now, and perhaps he has met Angus McMurdo on the other side and knows the truth.

Dr. Jeffery had fitted up his own home as a hospital after his wife died, hoping that sometime he might build bigger and better. He had a head nurse and a couple of under nurses, and I had the place of detention. That is what I would be called in an up to date institution, but there I had no many things to see to that the diet was only one of them. But I knew the patients, knew what they ought to eat, and planned they should get it.

McMurdo was the rich man of the whole county; no one knew just how much he had, but all he had did not save him from doom by wasting disease. Because he had made no home nor friends in the years he had lived in the town Dr. Jeffery brought him to the hospital to end his days under treatment, though the doctor himself said that good nursing would be all the real help we could give him.

Taft Welcomes Frat Members to Chicago

Former President William Howard Taft welcomed to Chicago the delegates to the seventh convocation of Phi Gamma Delta national fraternity in the Congress hotel yesterday. Passing through the city on a western speaking tour, he heard of the meeting of brother Greek letter men. As an active member of Phi Epsilon fraternity he "called on" his brother "frats" and was accorded a rousing reception. Tonight the annual banquet will be held with Secretary of War Newton D. Baker and Dr. David L. Kinley, acting president of the University of Illinois, as the principal speakers. The fraternity has sixty active chapters, with a membership of more than 18,000, 4,500 of whom enlisted in the war, and 105 made the supreme sacrifice.

Bright Sayings of the Children

"The Tribune" will pay $1 for each child's saying printed. The saying must never have been printed in any magazine or newspaper. It is sent possible to the knowledge of return unavailable contributions. Children's sayings to be sent to "The Tribune," Chicago.

Gerald lives downstairs and comes up whenever he smells something good being made. One day was doughnut.

Roland had found a pencil eraser, and, offering it to his little cousin, he said: "You can have it, Hazel. Do you know how to write?" Then, evidently for a moment, he thought she would have no use for an eraser unless she knew how to write wrong.

Jimmy had been over playing with the little boy who had just moved in across the street. When he came home I asked him how he liked the new neighbor. He replied, "I like him fine for games, but he is the talkinkest kid you ever heard of."

THE MARKET.

ABUNDANT LOCAL TRUCK.—Lettuce, radishes—white and red—beans, green onions, parsley, rhubarb, cauliflower.

OVERSTOCK.—There seems to be some indications that many of our groceries and fruit and vegetable stores are frequently overstocked. Help them to take up the "slack." They gamble on your needs. Hawkers are selling sweet California cherries on the streets through some sections at a low price, and cantaloupes at the doors of fruit stores where wares are still displayed on the sidewalk. Know your hawker before you buy. The stuff they sell is not always unsanitary.

NORMAL.—Some of the things which are normal in the wholesale regions are not normal in the retail. We must learn the difference. Little spinach is seen at retail, but the bureau of markets finds it abundant at wholesale. Another difference is that some of the produce described as normal appears at former prices while other items are only normal as compared with general prices prevailing today that is, high.

The bureau of markets is still playing up the cantaloupe and among other things says: "It should be remembered, restaurants charging 15 cents for half portions are asking a profit of 400 to 500 per cent."

PROFESSOR: IN THE SQUATTING exercise you must keep the trunk and head upright. The common fault is to stoop forward. The knees must be turned out, the heels together and raised from the floor. It is a hard exercise but you can practice it at first with the hands on the back of a chair.

One physician of note declared this to be the best all round single exercise, and recommended it particularly for your trouble—constipation.

JAMES J. J.: THE SULPHUR remedy for dandruff is sixty grains mixed with one ounce of vasoline. Apply every other night with massage to the scalp. You will find it all it is recommended.

FRANCES: THE CHEST MEASUREMENT for a person 5 feet 6 inches, weight 125, is 37.50.

WHY DO YOU BRUSH YOUR TEETH?

Germ of decay, "acid mouth," crust of tartar, given as reasons.

Some of us brush our teeth to whiten them; others to prevent decay—many still others to refresh the mouth. Many believe they have acid-mouth or want to remove the "crust of tartar" which is forming.

Regardless of why you brush your teeth, decide today whether the dentist you are now trying will do or if you are doing all that you can reasonably expect from a dentist.

If it is, continue to use it faithfully. If it is good for any one of the duties of a good dentist, you had better try McK & R Calox, which combines all modern dentifrices.

If you haven't heard the story of McK & R Calox—how it forms a lime-water in your mouth to prevent acids—how it creates fresh, active peroxide on the teeth every time you brush them—how it releases purifying oxygen gas which penetrates into every crevice and "gasses" the dangerous decay-germ into harmless atoms, if you don't know this story of the victory of modern science, send for full particulars.
